

Strike Affects 4,000

Southwestern Employees In Walk-Out

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Picketing by about 500 Western Electric Co. equipment installers has idled about 3,000 to 4,000 employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., spokesmen for two Communications Workers of America locals estimated today.

Southwestern Bell has about 6,000 employees in the St. Louis area, including a small part of Illinois.

The Western Electric installers struck at 2 p.m. Thursday in a contract dispute. The nationwide strike involves about 3,000 members of CWA District 6 in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma and part of Illinois.

A Southwestern Bell spokesman said about 930 telephone operators walked off the job Thursday and about 440 supervisory personnel took their places. He said at no time does the company expect the number of operators observing picket lines to exceed 1,000.

No Effect Noted In Sedalia

In Sedalia, Jack Spilker, supervisor, said the local Bell facility has not been affected by the strike in any way. A full force of repairmen, operators and office personnel is on duty, he said.

Tom Mitchell, of CWA Local 6390, representing Western Electric employees, said pickets were stationed at about 30 locations in the St. Louis area, Kirkwood, St. Charles and Festus and East St. Louis and Belleville, Ill.

Southwestern Bell confirmed picketing at all exchange buildings and some work and supply centers.

Mitchell estimated about 4,000 Southwestern Bell employees were affected by the picketing. A spokesman for local 6306, representing telephone company employees, gave the 3,000 to 4,000 estimate.

Company and union sources both said there had been no incidents involving pickets.

Southwestern Bell said supervisory personnel manning long-distance and other operating posts were picking up efficiency quickly.

"We think we'll give pretty fair service except during the real peak periods," the spokesman said.

The spokesman said the company expected to handle about 150,000 long-distance calls today.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today identified Erick Starvo Galt, wanted for the killing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., as James Earl Ray, 40, an escapee from the Missouri State Penitentiary.

Cancels His Speech

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has called off a planned speech to Congress that many had felt would include sweeping new attacks on big-city problems.

He told newsmen Thursday while flying home from California that since he had originally scheduled the address, Congress has passed a civil rights bill with a strong open-housing section. He said he therefore no longer sees any need for a special address to a joint congressional session.

Johnson announced April 5 he would appear before Congress. This word came a day after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. However, the President postponed his April 8 speech when he learned later that the slain civil rights leader's funeral was not to be held until April 9.

Johnson said he would make recommendations and suggestions for action—"constructive action instead of destructive action in this hour of national need."

There had been speculation

Doctors Go Hippie

The Pettis County Medical Society Auxiliary entertained Pettis County doctors in a belated Doctor's Day dinner Thursday night at the Old Missouri Homestead. It was a "hippie" affair with the doctors and their wives dressing up like hippies, and the top three costume winners are noted in the above picture. 'Love In' for MD's At a Hippie Affair

Pettis County doctors were honored Thursday night at a "Love In" party held at the Old Missouri Homestead given by the Pettis County Medical Society Auxiliary and attended by about 70 persons. The doctors and their wives were dressed like "hippies."

Originally the doctors were honored on Doctor's Day, March 30, but due to the Missouri State Medical Society convention which was held at

No Ruling On MoPac Rail Bid

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The public hearing has been completed on Missouri Pacific's request for the right to abandon the last passenger train service between Kansas City and St. Louis.

Four days of hearing were ended Thursday before the state public service commission. Now the commission will sift through the mass of testimony and the monthly reports being made by Missouri Pacific before making a final decision, probably not before mid-summer.

Meanwhile, the railroad must continue present service and try to attract more customers.

Last year the road asked for permission to take off two trains, one each way. The PSC held extended hearings but had not yet reached a conclusion when the road started efforts to abandon the last two trains.

The cases then were merged. Missouri Pacific was ordered to continue protracted service and try to get more passengers.

Johnson would propose major programs to meet the needs of the cities, many of them swept by violence following King's slaying. But it was also widely noted the Chief Executive already was under congressional direction to cut spending in the face of a mounting deficit—a price he had said he was willing to pay for enactment of his proposed 10 per cent surcharge on income taxes. That proposal is still before Congress.

As the State Department in Washington proposed 10 new possible sites for negotiations with Hanoi, Johnson emphasized four conditions "you have to have" anywhere talks are held:

—Adequate and presumably secure communications for the negotiators.

—Available diplomatic representation for all governments involved in the Vietnam war.

—Access for news coverage.

—A spot where neither side would have a psychological or propaganda advantage.

But to most of the industry the year looks good.

The National Association of Home Builders in Washington forecast 1543 million housing starts this year, up from 1.3 million last year.

Intensify Search For King Slayer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The nation's police agencies intensified a nationwide search today for Eric Starvo Galt, the elusive fugitive sought in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

They were aided by thousands of wanted posters, just gaining wide distribution two days after the FBI publicly identified Galt, 36, as the man it had sought secretly since a week after the April 4 slaying.

The FBI refused comment on queries about whether it believes Galt is the man's real name or was simply a cover built painstakingly over a number of months by the beer-drinking lover of hillbilly music.

Most of them expect 1968 to be better than 1967 but not without its problems. Some were less than enthusiastic.

It's the availability of mortgage money and its costs that overhangs the housing industry—and the would-be home buyer.

In Tallahassee, Fla., builder Al Albert, said the situation "in one word is rotten." Prices and money conditions have forced him out of the mass-produced home market he said.

"It seems money is getting tighter each week," said Sam Teague of the Leon Federal Savings and Loan Association in Tallahassee.

"The worst year in our history was 1966," Teague said, "and 1967 was good but it looks like 1968 is going to be about like 1966."

In Detroit, builders are apprehensive about labor costs after current contracts expire May 1.

"Undoubtedly home prices will go up," said William E. Stewart, secretary of the Detroit Association of General Contractors. "It's a very grim picture."

FRS Discount Rate Is Increased Again

Higher Interest Rate For Loans as a Result

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans face the prospect of harder-to-get loans at higher interest rates following the second increase in little more than a month in the Federal Reserve System's discount rate.

In what it termed an attempt to beat back accelerating inflation, the Federal Reserve Board stepped harder on the economic brakes in approving effective today a discount rate of 5.5 per cent for 3 of its 12 banks—New York, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. It had been 5 per cent.

The other nine banks are expected to follow in a move virtually sure to trigger higher interest rates on loans throughout the economy.

A nationwide AP survey showed meanwhile that interest rates on home mortgages are nearing 8 per cent already in some sections and the cost of an average home has climbed about $2,500 since 1966.

The new rate is the highest since just before the 1929 stock market crash when it went to 6 per cent.

one government source said the boost from 5 per cent was not unexpected in view of congressional inaction on President Johnson's request for the 10 per cent income tax surcharge, pushed by the administration as an anti-inflation weapon.

A boost in the discount rate from 4.5 to 5 per cent in mid-March was designed to stem inflation and cope with the gold crisis which reached its peak at that point.

The board cited spiraling inflation and a desire to strengthen the dollar abroad in announcing its action and at the same time approving higher interest rates — up to 6.25 per cent — which banks may pay to attract more savings through certificates of deposit of $100,000 or more.

The second move will enable commercial banks to compete more effectively for savings with high interest rates elsewhere in the economy — on corporate bonds, for example.

Other interest rates paid by banks remain unchanged including the 4 per cent maximum on passbook savings accounts and the 5 per cent maximum on certificates of deposit of less than $100,000.

Missourians Among Those Killed in War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Missourians were listed by the Defense Department Thursday among Army men killed in action in Vietnam.

They were Sgt. Donald C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Smith, Rt. 2, Lawton; and Pfc. Lawrence A. Swanguarin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence G. Swanguarin, St. Louis.

Swanguarin previously had been listed as missing.

Say Strike For Wages Effective

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO Communications Workers said their biggest telephone strike in 21 years was 90 per cent effective today in most areas of the nation, but telephone service remained near normal.

Many of the strikers marched in picket lines in sunny spring weather, singing songs and in some cases joking with management officials who trooped into telephone exchanges to take over their jobs.

The strike had a minimal effect on the Bell System's nationwide direct dialing network, but the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said service was disrupted in several areas when cables were cut.

Ohio Bell Telephone Company said the FBI had been asked to investigate one cable cutting that affected the service to a Federal Aviation Agency control center in Oberlin, Ohio.

Damage to cables was reported also in Indiana and Florida, and trouble of undetermined origin developed in a cable in Seattle, Wash.

Operators, repairmen, linemen, clerks and other employees of Bell System companies have gone on strike in 15 states and the District of Columbia.

Picket lines set up by the union's 23,000 telephone installer members, who worked nationwide for the Western Electric Co., spread the strike into a total of some 40 states.

Joseph A. Beirne, the union's president, urged the 500,000 employees not yet on strike to observe the installers' picket lines in support of the union's wage demands.

The strike, which began in most areas Thursday afternoon, was the first nationwide telephone walkout since a 44-day strike in 1947.

A union spokesman said there were no talks Friday with management officials on the wage dispute, but, "We are hopeful the parties can get back together and start making sense to each other at the earliest possible moment."

Director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said "We are in close touch with the parties."

US Planes Triple Number of Missions

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their heaviest raids of the year on North Vietnam Thursday, flying the largest number of missions in nearly four months, military spokesmen announced today.

Hitting targets in the southern panhandle in accordance with President Johnson's curtailment order, U.S. pilots took advantage of clearing weather to fly 145 missions, one more than a year's previous record on Jan. 6. It was the largest number since Dec. 26, when 150 were flown.

The total was nearly triple the average number of missions the Americans flew against enemy supply routes, convoys and gun positions in the southern part of North Vietnam before Johnson on April 1 ordered them to stay south of the 20th parallel of latitude.

Ten days later the President, in a move never publicly announced, put the northern limit for bombings raids at the 19th parallel, 170 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The curtailment was aimed at inducing the North Vietnamese to open peace negotiations.

Some U.S. sources say that despite Johnson's curtailment order allowing the North Vietnamese to move war supplies with impunity down to the 19th parallel, a distance of 140 miles from Hanoi, there has been very little change in enemy truck traffic in the southern panhandle.

Condemnation Proceedings On South 65

Condemnation proceedings were filed in Circuit Court late Thursday by the State of Missouri on behalf of the State Highway Commission against residents and business owners on South U.S. Highway 65 in connection with the widening of the highway.

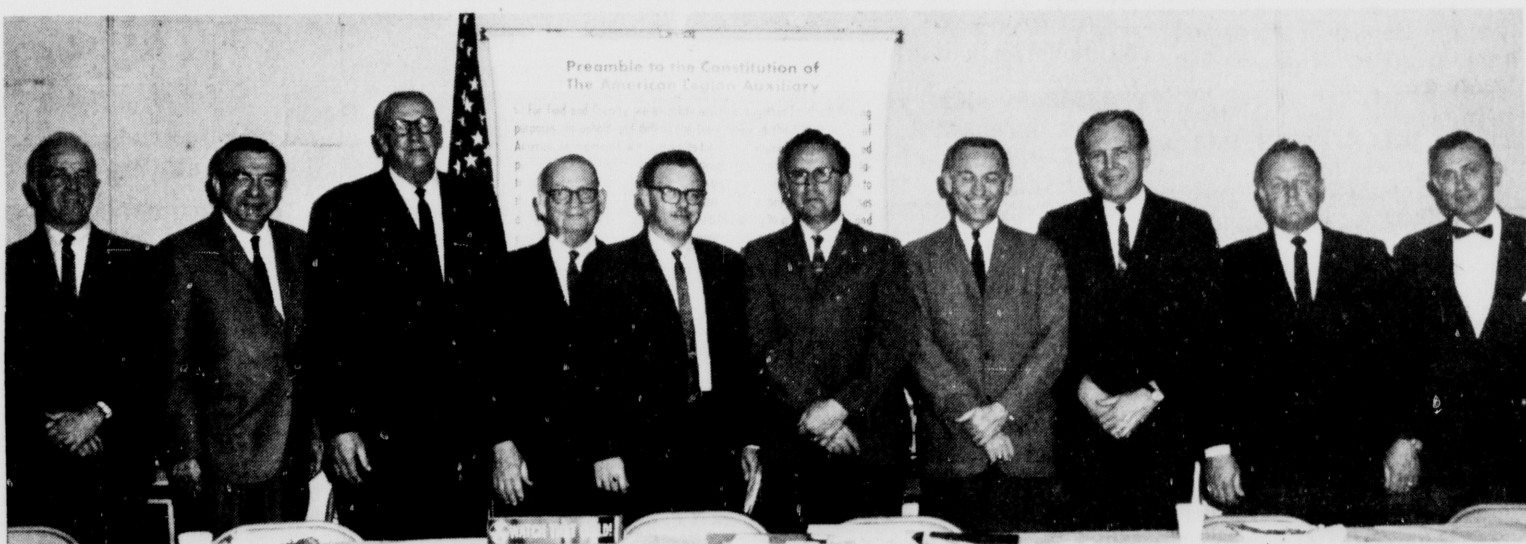

All properties being condemned, according to the petition, are within Pettis County. The petition states that the Highway Department and the owners of the land being condemned have not been able to agree upon proper compensation, if any, to be paid for the land, properties or rights as described within the petition.

Dresden Methodist Church

Dresden Methodist Church was established in 1873 and was one of two Methodist churches in Dresden in the late 1800's. The original church structure burned down in 1936, was rebuilt and burned down again in 1939. The present structure was built in 1940 and houses a congregation of approximately 90 people. The Rev. George Scott has been pastor of the church for one year. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Church News

The lesson-sermon to be read Sunday in all Christian Science churches is titled "Doctrine of Atonement." It includes this verse from John: "For God sent not his son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

Among passages to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement,—in the at-one-ment with God,—for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom."

Services at First Church of Christ Scientist, 120 East Sixth, begin at 11 a.m.

"The World's Most Popular Game" is the title of the 10:45 a.m. service the Rev. Allan MacMullen will preach at Faith Baptist Church, 2331 South Ingram, Sunday.

The 7 p.m. message is entitled, "Is the Church a Rest Home?" A film entitled, "Treasures from Heaven," will be shown. There will also be a baptismal service in the evening.

Friday, at 6:30 p.m. there will be a mother-daughter banquet in the church basement. The program will be, "Tales and Scenes of the Holy Land Tour," by Mrs. Allan MacMullen and Mrs. Myron Sinn.

The Rev. Barry Williams, assistant minister of Broadway Presbyterian Church, will be in the pulpit at the 10:45 a.m. worship service Sunday. Rev. Williams will preach on "Fear Is the Key."

Broadway Mariners will have a progressive dinner with a Mexican theme Sunday, beginning at the home of Don and Susan Callis, 3000 Skyline at 6:30 p.m., proceeding to the Richard Parkhurst home, R. 3 at 7:15 p.m., and ending the evening at the James Giokaris home, 1123 West Seventh.

"Who Are We?" will be the sermon topic at First Christian Church Sunday. Dr. Harry Purviance will bring the message at 10:10 a.m. The pre-conference rally will be held in Warrensburg Sunday at 2 p.m. and the pre-camp rally will be held in Higginsville Sunday at 2 p.m.

Sunday evening the Rev. Charles Hendrickson, Pastor at Calvary Baptist Church will bring a message on "What About Baptism?" The Sunday morning sermon will be given over to a theme of preparing for the youth revival.

There will be a Training Union "Moon" social Monday at 6:14 p.m. The social will climax an eight week period of promotion in Training Union.

At Christ Lutheran Church Sunday, Pastor Ron Beckman will speak at both services on the theme "A Second Chance." There is a baby sitting service provided during the second service.

"Baptized Unto A New Life" will be the sermon theme Sunday at Our Savior Lutheran Church, West U. S. 50 Highway. Pastor James W. Kalthoff will be the speaker. Holy communion will also be celebrated. Members may register by calling the parsonage on Saturday afternoon.

In the 10:45 a.m. Sunday service at the Church of the Nazarene, 24th and South Monticue, Pastor Ronald E. Wilson will speak on the subject, "We Have an Altar." The Young People's Society will meet at 6:45 p.m. followed by the evangelistic service at 7:30 p.m. Pastor Wilson's evening message will be, "Christ is the Answer."

In the Sunday morning worship services at St. Paul's Lutheran Church the Rev. Walter F. Strickert will preach on the topic, "Christians Have a Mission in Life."

A class of new members will be received into the church in the 10:30 a.m. service. Young people of the church will attend the Lake of the Ozarks Walther League zone rally at Mt. Hulda Sunday afternoon and evening.

In the absence of Brother Cleo Gray, Brother Leo McNeal will bring the message Sunday morning at the East Broadway Christian church. Brother Dwayne Good will be the guest speaker at the evening services.

Bethany Baptist Church's pastor will speak at the 10:35 a.m. worship hour Sunday on the subject "Five V's in Christ's Life" based on Isaiah 53.

The youth will be discussing "Versions and Translations of the Bible" at the 6:30 p.m. Training Union. The message at 7:30 p.m. by the pastor on "The Age of Anxiety."

In the mid-week service Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the pastor will discuss a passage in John's Gospel.

Trinity Lutheran Church, 32nd and Southwest Blvd., will observe the First Sunday after Easter with a service at 10:30 a.m. and the pastor, the Rev. Paul O. Doering, will speak on the Gospel text for the day on the subject of "A Sincere Doubter."

Sunday morning at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church the Rev. John Steele will begin a series of messages concerning the church. The message title will be "The Modern Church of the Modern Age."

During the 10:45 a.m. worship service at Maplewood Church, the Pastor, Harley Lafin, will be preaching on prophecy concerning the "Second Coming of Christ." Special music for the service will include the message in song, "How Great Thou Art."

The Rev. Robert L. Kessler will deliver the sermon Sunday at Congregational-Presbyterian Church in the morning worship service.

Greeting the congregation be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards.

There will be a deacons and elders meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Sunday at the Shrine of Jesus Home Chapel, 208 West 17th, the Rev. Doyle Ross Mabry will deliver a sermon at 9:30 a.m. to the adult truth students entitled, "I Am a Child of God. He Needs Me. He Loves Me, and He is with Me Now."

The sermon title for the 7 p.m. Wednesday service will be "I Say to My Mind, My Emotions, My Body, Please Be Still."

The Rev. Mr. C. J. Ford, Superintendent of Missions for Johnson Baptist Association will be bringing the messages for the morning and evening worship services at East Sealea Baptist Church Sunday. During the worship service at 10:30 a.m. the adult choir, under the direction of Miss June DeWitt will be presenting special music. The music for the worship service at 7:30 p.m. will be provided by the youth choir.

"The Universal Quest" will be the subject for both Sunday morning services at Wesley Methodist Church. This is a resumption of the series on the Beatitudes using the theme this Sunday of "The Peacemakers." The youth choir, under the direction of Mrs. Jack Gray will sing "Cherubim Song" at the 9 a.m. service and the chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader will sing "Sing Hosanna" at the 11 a.m. service.

The senior high MYF will leave to church Sunday at 2 p.m. to attend the District Spring Rally to be held at Warsaw.

The Central Methodist College Band will play in the Fellowship Hall of Wesley Church beginning at 8 p.m. Wednesday evening. First Methodist and Wesley Methodist are cooperating with this concert with First Methodist providing the dinner Wednesday evening, both churches providing housing, and Wesley Methodist providing the place for the concert.

Local Church To Hold Youth Week

Youth week at Calvary Baptist Church will begin Sunday. Young people of the church will be accepting responsibilities of teaching in Sunday school and in the Training Union hour.

The climax to Youth Week will be Youth Revival April 26 to the 28. A youth revival team from Hannibal-LaGrange College will be leading in this revival effort.

Minister Will Attend Lutheran Convention

Ernest Kettner and the Rev. Ron Beckman will be attending the annual convention of the Central District of the American Lutheran Church in Denver, Colo., Monday through Thursday. They will be representing Christ Lutheran Church, West 11th and Thompson Blvd. Christ Lutheran is one of 260 congregations of a four state area making up the Central District.

The Convention theme is taken from the 450th Anniversary observance of the Reformation, "In Christ... New Life."

La Follette Family Still in Politics

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The red brick house high on Maple Bluff looks across the blue waters of Lake Mendota to the shining dome of Wisconsin's Capitol.

So does it occupant. The square old mansion has a bronze plaque beside the door identifying it as a "registered national historic landmark."

The occupant sometimes feels as though he ought to wear the same sort of identification.

But Bronson C. La Follette, heir to the glittering name of Wisconsin's greatest political dynasty, has his mind on the future even though he is surrounded by the historic past.

La Follette is a candidate for governor of Wisconsin this year, a post in which members of his family already have served 12 years in this century.

For the first of them, his grandfather, Robert Marion La Follette, three terms as governor were only a starting point toward the Senate career that made him an immortal of American dissent.

Bronson's father, Robert M. La Follette Jr., began—and ended—his political career in the Senate, extending the family tenure there to 40 years. There is no reason to believe that Bronson himself will not eventually seek to reclaim that seat.

La Follette now is 32, and says ruefully, "I'm a little slower than the other members of the family."

"Fighting Bob" La Follette was elected to the House of Representatives when he was 29; "Young Bob" was named to succeed his father in the U.S. Senate at 30—youngest senator since Henry Clay.

But Bronson's record is not all that delayed—he first was elected attorney general of Wisconsin at 28, and was the only Democratic constitutional officer to withstand a Republican sweep two years ago when he won re-election.

On the other hand, his uncle, Phillip Fox La Follette, also a three-time governor, retired from politics at 41, when the National Progressive party he founded waned in the rising nationalism before World War II.

"But it had been more than 20 years now since the La Follettes passed from the national scene, and in a sense they have become deified."

"I have to keep reminding people that I am just a plain human being. I make mistakes."

"What I have to do to live with myself is put the past behind me and look to the future. Otherwise, I couldn't cut it."

But the past, as expressed by the previous visionaries of his name and lineage, does not seem so far away when this latest La Follette talks political philosophy.

His grandfather thundered against the railroads and unregulated utilities and sweatshop labor and political bossism; his father for the rights of unions and civil liberties and education; his uncle, on the state level, for tax reform and government efficiency.

Bronson, whose winning slogan as attorney general identified him as "the people's advocate," talks of consumer protection, the responsibility of the state in meeting the urban crises, upgrading of law enforcement training and personnel, property tax reform.

"I suppose you could call it the New Progressivism," he says candidly. "In some respects my thinking picks up where the La Follette Progressives left off. What it means, basically, is the re-establishment of state's rights in areas of responsibility to the people's needs."

His grandfather, of course, broke from the Republican Party and ran as the Progressive candidate for president in 1924; his father was elected both as a Progressive and as a Republican, and finally was defeated in 1946 when he returned to the Republican primary against a young judge named Joseph R. McCarthy.

The last Progressive elected governor of Wisconsin was in 1942, and although there was considerable sentiment to take the party's fading powers into the Democratic party two decades ago, Bronson is the first La Follette to win office as a Democrat.

He now has strong ties to the Democratic party, or at least to one of its wings. He is a friend of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who, as U.S. attorney general, gave Bronson his first political office six years ago, as an assistant U.S. attorney.

But he made the turn to the Democratic party largely because the evolution of the traditional La Follette views on social reforms—the "Wisconsin Idea"—found more support there. These included many advances that later won national enactment: the corrupt practices act, workmen's compensation, a child labor law, state civil service, the first eight-hour labor law, compulsory education—all these began here, and withstood constitutional challenge.

At the moment, La Follette is largely keeping his own counsel in the mansion above the lake where he lives with his wife, Lynn, their 8-year-old son—Robert M. La Follette IV—and 6-year-old daughter Deborah.

He has not yet said it, and this grandson of the first woman graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School may never need to echo his father's statement of 1925, when he announced he would seek his dead father's vacant Senate seat.

"I am well aware that the relationship in itself does not entitle my candidacy to consideration," young Bob said. "But at the same time, that relationship does not disqualify me for high political office."

Bishop's Contract Extended

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If I hadn't had a 39-week contract, I wouldn't be on the air today," says Joey Bishop, who is alive and thriving on late-night ABC.

This week marks the first anniversary of Bishop's brave foray into Carson country, and he received a handsome anniversary present from the network: a 39-week extension of his contract, putting his show into the fall of 1969.

Between celebrations, the sad-faced comic paused to reflect on the events of his year of entertaining the insomniacs. A veteran of four rugged years with a weekly series, he takes a realistic view of the television rate-race.

"If I had only a 26-week contract with ABC, I'm sure the network would have dropped me," he reasoned. "When you're set for only 26 weeks, that means that the executives will be making their decisions during the first 13 weeks. That could have been fatal for me."

The Bishop show was a slow starter. Reviews of the opening performance were generally unfavorable, and Joey thinks he knows why.

"Everyone who does this kind of show began quietly," he said.

"Jack Paar started very slowly, so did Merv Griffin and Johnny Carson; Mike Douglas began in Cleveland, for heaven's sake. They were able to break in without too much attention, and they gradually built and held their audiences."

"But with me! For six months there had been talk about what I was going to do. Finally I went on the air, and the critics and viewers were told: 'This is what you've been waiting for!' There was bound to be some hostility."

"I was against selling the show; I thought it was a mistake to come on too strong. I said, 'Let's go on quietly and have the show start to build.' But it wasn't done that way, and I got clobbered."

Bishop refused to panic when ratings thumped into the cellar. He continued working hard on preparation, spending long days at his Vine Street headquarters. His campaign to build an audience wasn't aided by a network strike which kept his show off the air for three weeks; the rating dropped while re-runs played.

But then the show started to climb. The Johnny Carson show on NBC continues to top the ratings, but ABC officials are eminently satisfied with Joey's performance, as evidenced by this week's renewal.

"Without being too hammy about it, I would say that the greatest satisfaction with the show is in being able to do some good for humanity," he remarked. "Like when an orphanage notified us that tickets to its benefit were selling poorly. We mentioned it on the show and sales jumped from $4,000 to $27,000. That sort of thing gives you a kick."

Kansas City Riot Costs Estimated

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Last week's riots cost Kansas City $3,843,051, city officials estimated Thursday. Six persons were killed.

The direct cost was placed at $33,475, with most of that being overtime salary payments.

Damage by fire was estimated at $530,000, looting $79,000, and loss in liquor stores $216,000.

Personnel costs for Jackson County reached $55,455, for the state $505,439, and for the federal government $27,940.

Hotels probably lost $600,000 and restaurants $400,000 from the lack of business during the curfew periods.

EXCESS DETERGENT
According to plumbers, it is a good idea to help clear drains by running very hot water periodically in your water pipes.

Wesley Methodist Confirms Group

Sub Rosa Churches Examined

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the "underground church" surfaces today—temporarily—for a checkup.

Religious scholars, including some involved in the new, irregular Christian coalitions developing outside formal church lines, are taking part in the above-ground inspection of the phenomenon.

Aim of the three-day conference at Boston College, a Jesuit institution in Newton, Mass., is to examine causes of the movement and its "potential for creative direction" in renewing church life itself.

"The underground church apparently constitutes a concerted effort to find new forms of Christian community that would be more adapted to the present situation," said the conference sponsors. Boston College's theology department.

However, evidence also was seen that "intrachurch conflict" and "opposition to the institutional church" goes with the trend.

In many cases, sharp controversy—between church leadership and lay groups sometimes led by priests or ministers—has accompanied the growth of the unofficial, varied religious units which have cropped up across the country.

Often, they involve Catholics, Protestants and others who meet in small, informal groups to discuss faith and morals, hold their own worship services, and join in social action projects—for peace, the poor and racial equality.

Although the movement "carries and attracts a new vitality of Christian life," the statement says, the opposition to the church shows a deep "alienation vis-a-vis modern society."

A newly issued book, "The Underground Church," edited by a roving Episcopal chaplain to youth, the Rev. Malcolm Boyd, includes essays about numerous avant garde religious communities developing in American cities.

They're usually small, highly flexible, and break across denominational boundaries, drawing believers of many kinds together for Bible study, discussion, worship and service in society.

Some participants have dropped out of the institutional churches, considering them dead or dying of self-protective rigidities. Others take part in their regular parishes and also in the unofficial interdenominational groups.

"The underground is a contemporary Christian revolutionary movement in the U.S. by-passing official church structures and leadership and concerned with Christian unity and radical involvement in the world," Father Boyd says.

Occasionally, the unconventional groups have run into official ecclesiastical opposition, as in the case of the Christian Laymen's Experimental Organization, led by a Trenton, N.J., Catholic priest, the Rev. George Hafner.

Father Hafner, who resigned from his parish post under pressure from his bishop to disband his floating "house meetings" with their informal liturgies and distribution of bread and wine, is on the program of the Boston College conference.

Not Trying to Place Blame for Viet War

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Eugene McCarthy, helping in her husband's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Thursday she was not trying to blame any one person, or administration for the Vietnam war.

"We are interested in finding out what in our thinking or in the thinking of our forebears, brought about our involvement in Vietnam," Mrs. McCarthy told about 200 persons at a rally.

St. Paul's Confirms Eighteen

Calvary Confirms Thirteen

Missions Director To Be Guest Speaker Here

In the 10:45 a.m. service at the First Baptist Church Sunday the congregation will hear the Rev. Orval Woolery, superintendent of Missions of the Harmony Baptist Association. His subject will be "Easter's Over, What Now?" The church choir will sing the anthem "Jesus, My Lord, My Life, My All." The ladies' trio, Mrs. Jim Gwinn, Mrs. Fred Biggs, Mrs. Jim Reed, will sing "In The Image of God."

During the 7 p.m. worship hour Sunday the church will observe the ordinances of Baptism and the Lord's Supper. The minister of education and music, Raymond G. Hall, will sing "An Evening Prayer." The choir will sing of the cross and resurrection. The Rev. Jess R. Wallace, pastor, will officiate in both ordinances.

Bob Hope Entertains Soldiers

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope spent much of Thursday at this Army training post.

He was in the post hospital an hour visiting with soldiers who had been wounded in Vietnam. Then he entertained thousands at an outdoor show on the parade ground.

Hope and the commanding general, George H. Walker, joined in dedicating a $750,000 theater in honor of the late Maj. Gen. William C. Baker Jr., former Ft. Wood commander.

Police Report

Someone called the police station about 7:40 p.m. Thursday to have a car towed from the 200 block of West Main. Upon arrival at the scene Officer Tom Wasson found that a tire had been slashed by vandals while it was parked on private property. The car, belonging to Carl Allen, 1700 South Vermont, was towed from the scene.

Leon Clark, 2002 South Kentucky, reported to the police Thursday morning the theft of three sheets of plywood and a thermostat from the above address.

Charges of disturbing the peace by fighting and common assault were filed in Circuit Court Thursday against William M. Monteir in connection with the incident at the old Menefee rock quarry northwest of Sedalia on March 30, 1968. James T. Buckley is representing Monteir.

A man apparently passed a counterfeit $20 bill at the Wheel-In Drive-Inn at Broadway and Highway 65 at 10:15 a.m. Friday. Sedalia police are investigating the incident.

Police Court

Louise Woods, 213 West Cooper, failure to yield the right of way, pleaded guilty and was fined $20.

John McKeever, Kansas City, careless and imprudent driving, forfeited a $25 bond.

John Underhill, Kansas City, forfeited a $25 bond for careless and imprudent driving, and he also forfeited a $25 bond for illegal possession of intoxicating beverages.

Peter A. Smith, 114 1/2 East Main, petty larceny, continued to April 26.

John Cavalier, 1410 South Missouri, disturbance of the peace, pleaded guilty was fined $25.

Michael Sarver, 1911 South Prospect, illegal possession of intoxicating beverages, pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

John Clemons, Odessa, illegal possession of intoxicating beverages, pleaded innocent and was dismissed.

Circuit Court

Meda L. Whittall was granted a divorce from Raymond Whittall in Circuit Court Monday. William F. Brown was attorney for the plaintiff.

Myrtle Butterbaugh was released on $1,000 bond after her bond was set in Circuit Court Thursday. A charge of forgery was filed against her at that time. The charge stemmed from an incident at Consumer's Market on April 12, 1968, at which time she allegedly passed a fraudulent check.

Sheriff's Report

Four ducks and four geese were found dead Thursday on the Bill Howell and John Vandekamp farm on State Route C. According to Deputy Sheriff Don Stratton, the ducks and geese had apparently been shot with a rifle.

Fourth Defeat On School Tax Increase

WELLSTON, Mo. (AP)—The Wellston School District apparently has lost for the fourth time its 62-cent battle with the voters.

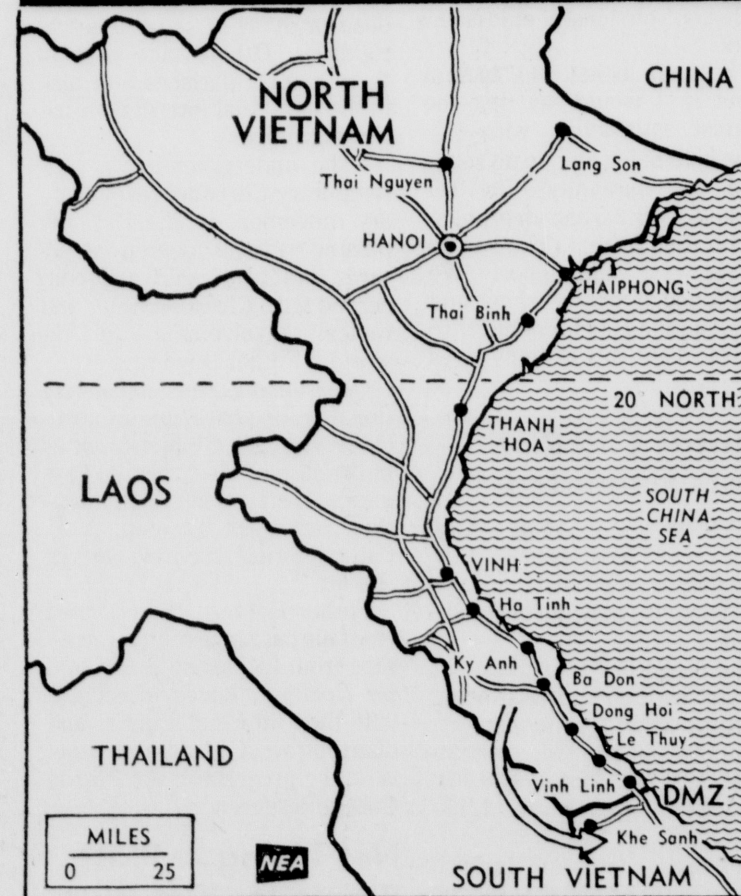

A proposed increase of 62 cents in the school tax rate was defeated 611 to 369 in a special election Thursday, according to unofficial results. A two-thirds majority was needed.

The defeat of the proposal apparently means that 90 teachers in the district will have to be dismissed. A school district official said there was still time to submit a proposal retaining the present tax rate of $2.54 per $100 assessed valuation.

IN THE NEWS

EXCELSIOR, Minn. (AP) — The congregation of the Minneapolis United Church of Christ voted 70-5 to hold their worship service Thursday nights instead of Sunday mornings during the summer. "If Christian freedom means anything, surely it means we can worship the risen Christ on any day of the week," the Rev. Paul Flucke, pastor, said.

WHY WE ARE STILL BOMBING

In announcing the partial bombing suspension, President Johnson said attacks would continue on North Vietnamese areas "north of the Demilitarized Zone where the continuing enemy build-up directly threatens allied forward positions and where the movement of their troops and supplies are clearly related to that threat." Thanh Hoa, just south of the 20th parallel, established as the bombing boundary in the Pentagon's clarification of the President's statement, is a major rail and road center. Other cities to the south control road and river communications and infiltration routes into South Vietnam. Some 75 per cent of North Vietnamese territory and 90 per cent of the population, the bulk in the Hanoi-Haiphong area of the Red River delta, lie north of the 20th parallel.

Money Winners

A total of $266.24 was presented by officials of the Third National Bank Thursday afternoon to four lucky persons who guessed nearest the amount of cash displayed in a huge glass snifter in the bank lobby for the past few weeks. Big winner was Carl Hammerly, 1101 South Lamine, who guessed within $3 of the $4,765.03 in the snifter. Hammerly received a check for $138.90, the interest on $1 million at 5 1/8 per cent for one day. Al Miles, 501 South Washington, was second and received $69.45, interest for one-half day. J. H. Marr, 1401 South Ohio, won third and received $34.73, interest for six hours. Mrs. Virginia Schumaker, 920 Sue Lane, was fourth and received $17.37 for three hours. Mrs. J. A. Orrender, Lincoln, was fifth and received $5.79, interest for one hour. Made the presentations, senior vice president, and Henry Salveter, executive vice president, made the presentations. More than 5,000 guesses, ranging from less than $50 to more than $2 million, were made. Shown left to right are Marr, Salveter, Mrs. Schumaker, Hammerly, McDonald and Miles. Mrs. Orrender was not present. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Chances For Pact Are 'Dead'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inertia apparently has killed any chance for a proposed "mutual assistance pact" which would allow states to send their National Guard units to help other states cope with any riots this summer.

Some key officials say they believe the idea, advanced at a governor's conference last fall, will never get off the ground.

"The thing seems to have bombed," said one Pentagon official, who spoke of Pentagon officials with lack of action in state legislatures and Congress.

As things stand now, states have no legal basis for sending their National Guard troops outside their own borders. In the aftermath of the Newark and Detroit riots, the National Governors Conference last October endorsed the draft of a model "National Guard mutual assistance pact."

A Washington staff member of the National Governors Conference said the proposed pact envisioned that the governor of a state with a civil disturbance problem bigger than it could handle alone could request the governor of another state to send "aiding forces" to help out.

Assuming forces were sent, the proposed compact provided such features as insurance protection of National Guardsmen assigned to riot duty in a state other than the one in which he was enrolled.

The National Governors Conference took the position this kind of a compact would require congressional consent.

The draft was introduced in several state legislatures but conference staff members said that so far as they know only Virginia has enacted the necessary bill.

Meanwhile, the sources said that no consent legislation has yet been introduced in Congress.

Some federal lawyers say there are legal complications over the question of command of Guard forces sent across state lines unless they are in federal service. The proposed mutual aid pacts would not apply to federalized National Guardsmen, considered U.S. troops.

In the recent riots following the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., more than 47,000 National Guardsmen were mustered by governors and 15,000 were federalized.

In cases where state Guard troops were unable to deal with the problem, federal help was requested and more than 26,000 regular Army and Marine troops saw duty in Washington, Baltimore and Chicago.

recognition of 40-years or more continued contribution to your community in your chosen profession, the Women's Auxiliary of the Pettis County Medical Society is justly proud of you and your selfless devotion to the field of medicine. We salute you on Doctor's Day, 1968.

The certificates were signed by L. Don Feeback, hospital administrator; Fred M. Lange, president of the Board of Trustees; Mrs. Stanley Fisher, president, Women's Auxiliary, Pettis County Medical Society; and Mrs. Robert Stewart, Doctor's Day chairman.

During the party, the doctors were the only ones eligible for competition in a costume contest, with Dr. John Brazos winning first place; Dr. Karl Gonsler, second place; and Dr. Harold F. Daum, third place.

Doctor's Day was originated by the Southern Medical Association.

Grim Satisfaction

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

"As the saying goes," the old man liked to say, "there's no use in crying over your hair if you've lost your head."

The old man lost his political head a few years back. This week, on his 74th birthday, he was unlikely to be crying at all. He may have had a good sardonic laugh.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, living out his waning years in obscurity, knows how to read between the lines of Pravda and Izvestia.

What he reads can give him a good helping of grim satisfaction. The men who dumped him unceremoniously from his pinnacle 4 1/2 years ago are up to their necks in problems. Their words and deeds indicate a bad case of Kremlin jitters.

They called Khrushchev a "hare-brained schemer" for the way he tried to attack those same problems. Now they are trying to do pretty much the same thing as Khrushchev did, and their success is far from spectacular.

The Soviet Communist party is getting sasses more frequently and with more impunity than ever was the case when Khrushchev was party boss and premier.

The Kremlin is trying even harder than Khrushchev did to bring about a world Communist meeting to unify a movement which resists unification.

Communist Romania's leaders have defied the Soviet hierarchy. Czechoslovakia is in ferment from a wave of reform sentiment which the Soviet leaders evidently regard as dangerous.

Bess Had To Calm HST Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Acheson says Bess Truman once intervened to prevent her fiery-tempered husband from possibly straining America's international relations with a misguided attempt to avenge her honor.

Acheson, secretary of state under President Harry S. Truman, said Thursday the incident was touched off when the ambassadors of two unfriendly nations both were invited to a White House fete. One ambassador withdrew at the last moment, he said.

"The President," said Acheson, "believing the ambassador had been rude to Mrs. Truman, instructed me the next morning to ask for the ambassador's recall."

Acheson, telling his story at a White House gathering for an unveiling of a new portrait of Mrs. Truman, said he told the president it was the protocol office's fault for inviting the feuding envoys to the same dinner.

But the president remained unmoved, said Acheson, until Mrs. Truman talked to him over the phone, then told the secretary of state: "You must not let Harry do what he's going to do."

Acheson said Truman backed down only after the secretary pretended to quote criticisms which he attributed to Mrs. Truman.

The names of the ambassadors, their countries or the year the incident took place weren't revealed by Acheson.

Mrs. Truman, who lives with the former president in Independence, Mo., didn't attend the ceremony. But on hand was the Trumans' daughter, Mrs. Clifton Daniel of New York.

ously contagious. Reform elements moving into control openly accuse the Soviet Union of Stalin's day of having engineered political murders in Czechoslovakia. Some in high places in Moscow today were part of that Stalin apparatus.

Soviet leaders have inspired an intensive campaign against capitalist influence. "The Communist party is being told it is the target of a 'secret war' waged by the United States to undermine Communist systems."

While Khrushchev was in the saddle, Czechoslovakia still was safely in the hands of an orthodox regime. Romania was only beginning to emerge in the role of annoying maverick. Red China was boisterously offensive to him, but today the Red Chinese are even more offensive and insulting to the current regime. There is division in the Communist world over policy toward the Vietnam war, and there is a rising tide of pro-Chinese sentiment among younger extreme leftists in the world.

Alone with his thoughts last Wednesday on his 74th birthday, Khrushchev may have had reason to reflect that loss of power had its compensations.

Democratic Women Hold A Meeting

The Women's Democratic Club of Pettis County met Tuesday evening, April 16, at the Missouri State Bank, with 51 members present.

Mrs. E. J. Williams gave the invocation and Mrs. Davjean Lyles led the pledge of allegiance.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Opal Hugelman, president. The 4th Congressional district meeting will be held Saturday, April 20, at Raytown, with 32 members of the club planning to attend.

Plans were also made for the annual anniversary dinner which will be held May 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the Smith-Cotton Cafeteria.

Chairmen of the committees for the dinner are: Mrs. Dottie Blaine and Mrs. Anette Miller, table decorations; Mrs. Floyd Lujen, meat; coffee, Mrs. Rosie Pearl Robb and Mrs. Laura Fisher.

Mrs. Daisy Parker read the correspondence and explained the $500 scholarship award to be given by the Missouri Democratic State Committee to the high school seniors who submit the winning essays on the subject: "Why the Democratic Party in Missouri is the Party of Achievement."

The prizes will be received by Mrs. Louis Twenter, Mrs. E. J. Thomas and Mrs. John Riley.

Mrs. Loyce Askew, chairman of the hostess group, introduced her committee, Mrs. Frank Kerswell, Mrs. Walter Jessee, Mrs. Nell Delph, Mrs. Lawrence England and Mrs. W. E. Bruce, who served refreshments.

Because of daylight saving time the meetings will now start at 8 p.m.

Rebuilt Antique

A 1918 DeHavilland biplane takes to the air near Santa Paula, Calif., in the first test flight of the rebuilt aircraft since it crashed in Utah while flying the U.S. Mail in 1922. A pilot, Bill Hackbarth, recovered the remains of the crash and started the reconstruction. Hackbarth and "Old 249," as the plane is known, undertook a 16-city, 18-day cross-country flight, where the ship will be turned over to the National Air Museum to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the U.S. Air Mail Service. Price for Popularity

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

Associated Press Writer

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — Running a two-acre farm and raising everything from black-eyed peas to pigs is hardly a dark enough deed to get a price put on a farmer's head.

But the Viet Cong is offering the equivalent of $225 for Capt. Frank Smith, a soft-spoken farm boy from Abilene, Tex. Seems he is becoming too popular with the South Vietnamese.

Inside Smith's compound—known variously as the Forty Acre Follies or the Civic Affairs Ranch—are a farm, a burgeoning school, a thriving sewing room and a dispensary so popular the rush of patients recently collapsed the floor.

The ranch covers about two acres of sweltering delta paddyland along the Mekong River and hard by the frequently shelled Dong Tam camp of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division.

Some extended their 12-month Vietnamese tours to stay with the project. Lanky Sgt. Robert Rowan, 23, son of a poultry farmer from Jackson, Miss., extended in hopes of completing a demonstration project to raise local egg production.

The Dong Tam farm started barely a year ago as a civic action project of the adjoining base.

It is run by Smith and four enlisted men, all Purple Heart Infantry veterans of the 9th Division. The enlisted men also have prices on their heads.

"Nobody had any preconceived notions," said the base commander, Lt. Col. Dwight Adams, former head of the ROTC unit at South Dakota State University at Brookings. "We just wanted to use some imagination."

Smith, a civic affairs specialist with a Ph. D. in educational psychology from the University of Texas, took over eight months ago after spending a month in the hospital as the result of a mine blast.

He wrote his wife in Abilene to send him seeds of almost every kind and also set about promoting livestock for the camp. He now has a noisy flock of ducks, chickens, turkeys, rabbits, goats, pigs and a magnificent boar named Big Jim is improving the delta's usually under-developed pig population.

Hospitality Business Is Evolving, Growing

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The definition of hospitality remains the same in any man's language, but the business of hospitality, which includes motels, is evolving and growing like few other businesses in America today.

Taking to the road this summer, vacationers in the 48 contiguous states and the District of Columbia will find at least 5,825 motels of 50 units or more offering a total of 581,388 rooms.

Count Alaska and Hawaii, and add in the thousands of rooms in motels of fewer than 50 rooms, and the figure swells. There will be at least 65,500 more motel rooms than a year ago.

The latest count by Helmsley-Spear, a real estate firm whose motel census is widely accepted, shows California in first place with 63,211 rooms in 653 motels. Florida is next with 590 and 57,600, and Texas, New York and Illinois follow.

Now consider that this business barely existed 30 years ago and you can visualize the evolution and growth. Motels today are big business.

"A husband and wife still can operate a 20- to 40-room motel successfully," says Stephen Brenner, Helmsley-Spear motel consultant, "but beyond that size they get into something that demands professional assistance."

The reason is that guests today are looking for more than overnight accommodations. They want convention rooms, lobbies, showrooms, restaurants, bars, swimming pools and even bellhops, which for a while were left behind at the hotels. Do-it-yourself, once a trademark of motels, may be going out of style.

All this demands big investments. A 100-room motel with a restaurant and most facilities now costs about $1.5 million, Brenner says.

He provides these per room costs: Basic construction $6,000 to $8,000; restaurant, parking lot, swimming pool and other facilities $4,000; furnishings, fixtures, equipment $1,500; land $1,000 to $2,500.

These are averages. A room alone doesn't cost $12,500 to $16,000. But per room costs, prorated for the expenses of installing and operating the restaurant and other facilities, do come to this seemingly high figure.

What is often considered the beginning of the motel industry was Askin's Cottage Camp, erected back in 1901 at Douglas, Territory of Arizona.

Askin's charged 50 cents a night, plus 25 cents for coal to fuel the heating-cooking stove in the room. The facilities which the traveler now takes for granted were in the backyard.

Brenner believes the word motel was first used in 1925 at San Luis Obispo, Calif., when an enterprising businessman opened a "Mo-Tel."

The real spurt in the business came after World War II when there was still a shortage of rooms for transients. Hotels, which had been bankrupt during the 1930s, were operating at nearly total capacity.

No Secret to It at All

"What is the secret of your success?" a youngster asked a successful businessman, interested in finding out whether or not there were any short cuts to the pinnacle of executive control and the mazuma that goes with it.

"Well, son," the elderly man replied, "there is no secret to it at all. I simply jumped at my opportunities."

Probing for more information the lad asked, "But how did you know when your opportunities were available? To which the man retorted, "I didn't know; I just had to keep jumping."

—O—

That story will never be too old to repeat from time to time because of the increasing trend of youngsters not to want to jump but rather to mosey along in slue-foot fashion. They have the inclination to succeed but not the motivation identified with hard work and long hours.

A necessary ingredient of this county's future stability depends on the attitudes of today's youngsters toward initiative and hard work. And this is not going to be accomplished by continued shrinkage of the work week and perpetual inflation of the minimum wage.

—O—

In this mood of reflection, we are reminded of an advertisement prepared by

Warner & Swasey, precision machinery manufacturers which read:

"Where is that country we used to know?"

"In the American of yesterday you paid your debts as quickly as possible, and went without things, to do it.

"You disciplined your children — but disciplined yourself, first.

"You spent less than you earned, and demanded your government do the same.

"You went to church, your children to Sunday school, you held daily prayers — and no court would have dared to interpose any law into your private religion.

"You would have been horrified at (and quick to change) men in high places who made 'deals'.

"You expected to prosper only by doing a better and better job.

"You obeyed the law — but took active enough part in government to see that the laws were just.

"You walked softly but carried a big stick'.

"And that was the character which brought this country victory in three wars in your lifetime, built it back from a shattering depression, and fed and saved the civilized world.

"Is there enough of it left, to do it again?"

Rostow Advised Against Warsaw

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — The administration's turnaround of Warsaw as a negotiating place after President Johnson had repeatedly stated he would go anywhere at anytime to talk peace can be attributed in large part to LBJ's Foreign Affairs Advisor, Walt Rostow.

Dr. Rostow is a personable, highly intelligent professor from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who acted as one of John F. Kennedy's early braintrusts, later became one of Kennedy's top foreign affairs advisers. He is now completely at odds with brother Bobby Kennedy regarding the war in Vietnam but has been able to make his ideas on Southeast Asia stick with Lyndon Johnson.

The veto of Warsaw as a meeting place caused a sour reaction in the diplomatic corps, due to the fact that the United States has been meeting with the Chinese Communist in that city for many years. One reason the North Vietnamese picked Warsaw was so they could tell the Chinese — who don't want them to talk at all — that, since the Chinese had been talking in Warsaw, they couldn't object to the North Vietnamese talking there.

In addition, the Poles have been cooperative in supporting the United States regarding peace talks. They are now going through student sit-ins and internal problems somewhat similar to those of Czechoslovakia, so the atmosphere for East-West peace talks should not be unfriendly.

Despite this, the United States, on the advice of Dr. Rostow, renge on the President's repeated pledge to go anywhere at any time to talk peace.

—Rostow's Problems—

Around the State Department it is said that Walt Rostow suffers from two things: First, he has been trying to live down the fact that his father was a Socialist; second, Walt Rostow was the man who originally recommended to President Kennedy that he send large scale troops into Vietnam. Ever since, Rostow has been trying to prove this policy was no mistake.

It was only natural, therefore, that Rostow was not enthusiastic about the President's olive branch to North Vietnam. Hence his negative advice on Warsaw.

Rostow was born in 1916 just as Eugene Debs, Socialist candidate for president, was jailed by the Wilson administration. Walt's father, an admirer of Debs, named one son Eugene Debs Rostow and the other son for the Socialist poet of Civil War days, Walt Whitman.

Walt Rostow has had a brilliant scholastic career, but is also regarded as something of a bumbler.

He was a Rhodes Scholar, took a doctor's degree at Yale, taught American history at both Oxford and Cambridge, and economic history at MIT.

He also was an OSS agent aboard the British tanker Empire Mersey when it was sunk by a German submarine in 1942. Rostow managed to save his life but not his luggage, though later Rep. Ellsworth B. Foote, R-Conn., introduced a bill whereby Congress voted him $585.50 for his lost suitcases.

His most serious loss, however, was when he left

Looking Backward

Mrs. George F. Chambers, 1021 South Kentucky avenue, was elected Grand Junior Custodian at the 19th annual session of the Order of Jobs Daughters held in St. Louis in the Commandery room of the Masonic Temple. Frankie June Rodgers, honor queen of Bethel No. 19, Sedalia, was one of the ceremony escorts.

A large electric sign, which it is said will be the most elaborate between Chicago and Denver, will be erected by the American Disinfectant Company, of which Mrs. J. Rudd Van Dyne is president, and her son, Clifford D. Van Dyne is manager, at the intersection of highways 40 and 65. The sign was purchased through the Queen City Electric Co. It will advertise both the company and Sedalia.

behind a confidential memo during conferences between President Kennedy and Prime Minister Diefenbaker of Canada. On the memo Kennedy had written the initials SOB, referring to Diefenbaker. Diefenbaker didn't take kindly to this and the incident strained Canadian-US diplomatic relations.

—JFK Was Irked—

It also strained President Kennedy's patience regarding his special assistant for national security affairs. Kennedy had suffered a serious setback in Vienna during his talks with Premier Khrushchev when Rostow advised him to be tough. Kennedy returned to the United States so distraught that his old back ailment returned.

Out of that meeting came the Berlin wall, the calling out of American reserves and the lowest ebb in American-Soviet relations.

It was on the heels of this diplomatic defeat that President Kennedy sent Rostow and Gen. Maxwell Taylor to Southeast Asia. They came back with a recommendation that American troop strength in South Vietnam be increased from 1,000 men, where Eisenhower had kept it, to 18,000 men. Kennedy, smarting from his failure in Vienna and the Bay of Pigs fiasco and needing to recoup his prestige, bought the idea.

This is how the United States first got seriously involved in South Vietnam.

It was only three months after accepting Rostow's advice on this major step that Kennedy demoted the man who had given it to him. Rostow was transferred from the White House, where he was at the President's elbow, to the Policy Planning Council of the State Department.

No one who knows Rostow questions his integrity. But they do question his judgment. They feel that it has been influenced by his triple failure to receive a security clearance during the Eisenhower administration. This was the beginning of the famous Otepka case, Otepka having objected when Bobby Kennedy demanded special clearance for Rostow.

A great deal of controversy has revolved around this case and Otepka's subsequent removal of State Department files. The controversy has caused President Johnson, always loyal to his friends, to champion Rostow. It has also tended to make Rostow the toughest anti-Communist adviser around the White House. He wants to prove Otepka wrong.

Chickens Toss Towel

The doves and the hawks have now been joined by the chickens.

Chickens are these characters who are loudly moaning, "The Communists are winning. We've had it!"

There's a big difference between chickens and doves and between chickens and hawks.

Doves believe the Vietnam war is pointless and that the United States has no business in it. They believed this even when things were going better for us.

Hawks have believed all along that the United States should quit playing for a tie and go for broke.

But chickens didn't have too much to say one way or the other until things suddenly got rougher for us recently. Then they started screaming "uncle"—and they weren't cheering for Uncle Sam. They were, and are, writing him off as a loser.

You can't blame the Commies much if they figure that with enemies like this, who needs friends?

Fresh-water Sharks

Sharks can be found in fresh water. A few species run up into fresh waters of tropical rivers and three or four species are regular inhabitants of fresh-water lakes in Central America in Thailand.

Oldest Church

Old Swedes Church, erected in Wilmington, De., by Swedish Lutherans (now Protestant Episcopal) in 1698, is thought to be the oldest Protestant church in continuous use in the United States.

MONEY CLIPS

by Mort Reed

Recorded in Silver - -

Exactly 100 months from now, in July 1976, the United States will celebrate her 200th birthday. The government will undoubtedly mark the occasion with a special commemorative coin but, in the meantime, the Franklin Mint is preparing a limited edition of 200 sterling silver medallions dramatizing the outstanding events of our 200-year history.

Each medal measures 1 3/4 inches in diameter, which is substantially larger than a silver dollar, and each depicts the top historical event of the year on one side, with a chronology of the year's most significant dates on the other.

The subjects to be commemorated are selected by a panel of eminent historians, headed by Dr. Roy Nichols, one of the nation's most distinguished scholars, a Pulitzer Prize winner and former dean of the graduate school of Arts and Sciences of the University of Pennsylvania.

Starting with the signing of the Declaration of Independence and The Stars and Stripes are Born, two medals each month will be sent to subscribers of the series until the entire 200-medal library is completed in 1976.

In the interest of collectors and investors, who may subscribe to this series, I contacted the Franklin Mint regarding the effect an eventual rise in the price of silver may have on the delivery of these pieces. Mr. Segel, president of the firm, assured me that both quality and price would be maintained up to and including the 200th medal.

For those who may feel sterling silver (.925 fine) is not quite rich enough for their taste, the same series is available in solid platinum at roughly 100 times the price of sterling.

Enrollment is open to subscribers until April 20, and interested readers may secure additional information by writing to: Franklin Mint, Yeadon, Pa. 19050.

If you haven't ordered your 1968 proof coins for this year, you just could be too late. In an announcement from her office, Miss Eva Adams, director of the Mint, said the production limit for 1968 proof coins was 3 million sets and the mint would stop accepting orders when that amount was reached.

Miss Adams announced further that, beginning July 1, special order forms for 1968 Mint sets will be mailed to all collectors on record as having purchased 1968 proof sets.

A mint set consists of one coin of each denomination, struck at each mint, of the type issued for general circulation. Normally, this set would contain 15 coins, five from each mint. But this year will see only 10 pieces in all.

According to an article in Coin World, five of the coins will probably come from the Denver Mint bearing the mint letter D, and the Philadelphia Mint and the Assay Office in San Francisco will share the honors for the other five. Those pieces struck in San Francisco will show the mint letter S.

One set will be made up of two polyethylene packets, each holding five coins. The cost is not expected to exceed $2.50. Over the years, this has proven to be the best method of buying uncirculated coins. The price includes handling and mailing fees, and assures delivery when ordered prior to the cut-off date.

The mint does not sell backdated sets. Only orders for 1968 sets will be accepted and then only if in the quantity allowed on the special order form. When instructions reach this column on how sets may be ordered by collectors who didn't purchase this year's proof sets, it will be passed along.

The previous four columns have been written by James Jacoby to describe his new team. Today Jim goes one step further by asking his teammate Bobby Wolff to write about his favorite hand of all time.

Bobby writes, "I usually get into the bidding with two aces and five spades, but the unfavorable vulnerability and maybe a sudden burst of caution caused me to pass over South's heart opening. After North's three heart and South's four heart calls I expected to lead against a routine game contract, when much to my surprise North cue bid both diamonds and clubs and thereby carried South to a heart slam.

"It isn't often that I find myself on lead against a slam with two aces. It is even less frequent for me to decide not to lead either of them.

"Fortunately the bidding had proceeded slowly so that I had time to think over my lead while South was puzzling over his partner's six club call. It wasn't hard to decide against the club lead. North clearly had shown that he did not have any clubs. It also seemed pointless to lead a red card.

"The suit to attack was spades. North had bid just like a man with the king of spades. I couldn't get two tricks by leading my ace. Maybe an underlead would work. I led the four of spades. South pondered, played dummy's jack and went down one."

This happy ending reminds us of one of Oswald Jacoby's least happy hands. He also underled the ace of spades against a heart slam. Dummy held the queen; declarer the jack. After a low play from dummy, third hand played the 10 of spades instead of the king and declarer made an impossible slam.

In 1869, John Wesley Powell made the first detailed exploration of some 1,500 miles of the Colorado River, much of it through the Grand Canyon, says The World Almanac. The one-armed Civil War veteran made the hazardous three-month trip with nine companions in four small rowboats. Powell contended with rapids, desertion, dissension, boat crashes and near-drowning.

The World Today

More Interest In '68 Campaign

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreigners appear more interested in this year's U.S. presidential election than in any in many years.

Their interest is registered on a reliable barometer: the increasing number of applications from foreign newspapers, other publications and radio and television stations for credentials to cover the Republican and Democratic conventions in August.

Worldwide concern over the Vietnam war undoubtedly explains much of the eagerness to know not only who the contenders for the presidency will be, but where they stand on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia and what — if anything — new the party platforms will have to say on the subject.

In several other respects, however, U.S. foreign policy which continued with little basic change through all the early cold war years even though the national administration switched from Democratic to Republican and back again, now has moved into a period of reappraisal and decision. America's traditional trading partners and diplomatic associates in Europe, and the developing countries as well, have great stakes in any departures from past ways that may develop.

If there is to be — sometime, somehow — a disengagement from Vietnam, they may well be asking themselves: Does this mean the United States will devote less energy and resources to world problems? Does it mean more U.S. attention will be directed to the internal needs dramatized most recently by the violence in urban slums after Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination?

Past and present recipients of foreign aid obviously wonder whether that program, already substantially tapered off, is to dwindle away.

Europeans watch the United States struggle to bring its budget deficits under control and its international payments more nearly in balance and wonder whether more overseas-based American troops will be brought home.

Foreign bankers watch the dollar and try to calculate what effect U.S. fiscal policies will have on the international monetary system. Exporters note with uneasiness the upsurge of protectionist feeling here — manifested in some congressmen's demands for quotas on imported goods — just as sweeping new international trade arrangements are going into effect.

For the ordinary readers, viewers and listeners abroad, like those in this country, this year's campaigns simply make a more suspenseful story than the events of four years ago when both nominations were locked up well in advance of the conventions.

President Johnson's withdrawal announcement contributed high drama — and the Kennedy name — this time borne by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D.N.Y. — is again before a world that has never stopped talking about John F. Kennedy, his brief administration and his death.

Self-Serve Funerals

Wouldn't you know it would happen? I had just finished writing about leisure time when what to my wondering eyes should appear but an article setting forth a new idea on how to save me even more time.

In order to collect this leisure time I would have to move to Atlanta, however. And, I wouldn't know when I was going to get the time either, what with the way things are. I mean, since I don't know anybody in Atlanta, I'd have to make lots of friends and then wait around until they died.

The report is that the management of an undertaking establishment there is thinking about installing drive-in facilities.

The idea is that, when my dear old friend Emma dies, I won't be put to much trouble. I won't even have to get dressed but can go in curlers and bathrobe and drive through the parking lot because there Emma is, in window No. 3, "the coffin slightly tipped for better viewing."

I always knew Emma was a real friend! She has arranged to lie in state in a manner calculated not to disrupt my daily routine. I can drive by and look at her in her public showcase and then get on with the grocery shopping and the ironing and all the really important stuff.

It will save me from listening to those trite remarks one hears at funeral parlors also. For one thing, nobody is going to say, "Emma looks so natural!" because obviously she does not. I knew Emma and she just wasn't the type who went around lying in store windows.

I do think this innovation might produce some problems. Some sort of protocol will have to be established with decisions being made as to whose body can occupy window No. 1 and whose will be consigned to that window around the corner. Then, since the family will no longer find it necessary to be inside the building to greet old friends, maybe some sort of reception stations will be put in at the end of the driveway.

A moving sidewalk for those not owning automobiles would be necessary and perhaps little wire baskets like those used on expressways could be installed. Instead of flowers, you just toss in a contribution as you exit. Maybe you pick up a bumper sticker on your way out.

Actually, now that I think of it, going there in curlers and bathrobe won't be possible. Surely the designers will come up with a simple black suede car coat—just the thing for driving down to view the dead.

Deny Ky Was a Smuggler

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Both the U.S. Embassy and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today denied a report being investigated by a Senate subcommittee that the CIA fired Ky for smuggling opium in 1963.

The report, made to the Senate Foreign Expenditures subcommittee, said Ky commanded air crews in a secret CIA operation flying saboteurs to North Vietnam and took advantage of the setup to fly opium from Laos to Saigon.

The U.S. Embassy said there was "no truth in the story that Ky was removed from any position by any element of the U.S. government for opium smuggling or for any other reason." Asked if the embassy had any information connecting Ky with opium smuggling, an embassy spokesman said only: "There is no truth to the allegation."

"The vice president just laughed when he saw the story," said a spokesman for Ky. "He said it was groundless news, and there is no truth to it at all."

The spokesman added that Ky took part in the flights over North Vietnam, "but he would not get involved in smuggling. You know he pays no attention to matters about money."

The Senate subcommittee's staff director, Joseph Lippman, made the report available to

The Associated Press in Washington with the stipulation that the source could not be identified.

Lippman said the report was considered highly reliable. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, a critic of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

The author of the report said he was sent to Vietnam in March 1962 by an American company to serve as an inspector and adviser to ground crews that maintained the aircraft used in sabotage missions.

The company, the report said, "was a fictitious company set up by the CIA and (an airline) operating from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base as a blind for a program called Operation Haylift."

Operation Haylift was flying Vietnam agents into North Vietnam for the purpose of sabotage such as blowing up railroads, bridges and etc. When the program first began the CIA engaged air crews and their commanding officer was Col. Nguyen Ky who is now vice president of South Vietnam.

"To make a long story short, Col. Ky took advantage of this situation to fly opium from Laos to Saigon. Of course the CIA removed Col. Ky and his flight crew and they were replaced by Chinese Air Force pilots from Formosa."

"Also the Vietnam ground

crews were replaced by Chinese mechanics."

Lippman refused to permit publication of the names of the American company which sent the informant to Vietnam or the airline operating out of Tan Son Nhut.

Husky Male Voices Replace Softer Tones

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Husky male voices replaced some female voices as supervisory personnel manned switchboards in the Communications Workers of America strike against Western Electric Co.

The Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said about 930 operators walked off the job Thursday afternoon. They are members of the CWA. About 400 installers who work for Western Electric and 2,400 others throughout Missouri, Illinois, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas struck the giant telephone system.

A spokesman for the telephone company said service was not interrupted and no difficulty was expected unless there was a breakdown in the dial system.

Pickets appeared at a number of locations in the St. Louis area in the first walkout at the company in 21 years. The company and installers were at odds over a wage re-opener clause in their three-year contract.

Live Coverage of Riots Distorts Real Situation

By STERLING F. GREEN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A television news executive says he believes live coverage of racial disorders gives viewers an inaccurate picture—but that television is accused of withholding news if it doesn't provide on-the-scene coverage.

Richard S. Salant, president of CBS News, also told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that the arrival of TV equipment on the scene of a demonstration can set off crowd action that had not occurred before.

"We've been agonizing over that," Salant said. "My orders to cameramen in such cases are: Cap your cameras and get the hell out of there."

"Those are our orders, but they cannot be enforced from a head office. The decisions are up to the men working on the story, and no newsman wants to quit on a story while it is happening."

The discussion of TV coverage—which along with newspaper coverage was subjected to some criticism in the recent report of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders—came at Thursday's sessions of some 550 members of the society.

They prepared to close the three-day convention today with an address by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the installation of a new president of their own, Vincent S. Jones, a deputy editor of the Gannett Newspapers, Rochester, N.Y.

The election of Jones is a formality since the society by tradition always elevates its first vice president to the presidency. Jones will succeed Michael J. Ogden of the Providence (R.I.) Journal-Bulletin.

Nixon, only declared major candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, was to speak one day after the editors gave warm and sustained applause to an address by an avowed noncandidate, Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

His speech was a plea for massive redevelopment of big-city slums.

Salant's observation that TV viewers felt they were being cheated if they didn't get live riot coverage was corroborated by editor Emmett Dedmon of the Chicago Sun-Times. His newspaper received telephone calls complaining that the TV stations were covering up the riot story, Dedmon said.

"I am opposed to live coverage because it is impossible to be accurate," Salant said. "You can get a small, sporadic action and it can look like Armageddon, but it isn't."

"But if we don't give live coverage we give rise to this question: if you're not covering this, what else are you not telling us? We know the problem—we don't yet have an answer."

Paperwork Consumes Much Time

MOSCOW (AP) — Up to half a doctor's day in this bureaucratic society must be devoted to filling out forms and other paperwork.

This is disclosed in a detailed report of a Soviet doctor's life, given in the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda.

Dr. Svetlana Parkhomenko makes 105 rubles or $116.67 a month, so she is about as well off as a typical teacher.

Dr. Parkhomenko works at a polyclinic, as do about two-thirds of this country's doctors. The polyclinics are like outpatient centers at Western hospitals.

Treatment is free, though the patients have to buy some of their own medicine.

Dr. Parkhomenko is expected to handle five cases an hour at the clinic, No. 32 in the Zhdanov district of Leningrad.

House calls to bedridden patients, which take more time because of the distances involved, average 30 minutes each.

Dr. Parkhomenko, 30, received the normal six years of medical education after being graduated from high school. She married an army officer, Stanislav, and they have a 7-year-old son who is looked after at his school. After her day at the clinic the doctor has to shop, prepare the family dinner and do housework.

The couple has moved around a lot because of the husband's military career. Their apartment is filled with secondhand furniture picked up along the way.

Dr. Parkhomenko hopes eventually to do postgraduate study and become a specialist, which would mean better pay and less routine.

Home Run Count In Earnest Now

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Ted Williams is looming right up ahead, but Mickey Mantle has his sights set on Jimmy Fox.

The home-run countdown season began in earnest Thursday night when the Yankee slugger hit his first one of the season in New York's 6-1 victory over California.

It was Mantle's 519th career home run, just two short of Williams' total, which is now the fourth best ever compiled. Fox' total is 534 and Mantle is trying for a crack at it this year.

"I don't set goals," Mantle said after the game, "but it would be nice to pass Fox this year."

Ahead of Fox are Babe Ruth with 714 and Willie Mays, who has 565 and is probably good for a few more yet.

"What I want to do is finish third," said Mantle, not wanting to appear greedy.

In other American League games, Oakland beat Baltimore 4-3 in 13 innings, Boston beat Chicago 3-0, Detroit topped Cleveland 5-0 and Washington edged Minnesota 7-6.

In the National League, Cincinnati took St. Louis 4-3 in 12 innings, Atlanta beat Chicago 5-3 and San Francisco beat the New York Mets 5-3.

Mantle's homer came in the fourth inning with Bill Monbouquette on base and Roy White hit another two-run homer in the same inning. Monbouquette turned in a sparkling performance on the mound, allowing just five Angel hits, one a homer by Roger Repoz.

John Donaldson drove in the winning run for the Athletics with a sacrifice fly in the 13th for Oakland's first victory in its new stadium. The key play in the inning came when Brooks Robinson tried to force a runner at second on a bunt and failed. Had he gone to first, Donaldson's fly would have been the third out of the inning.

Jose Santiago pitched a two-hitter against the White Sox who are still looking for their first victory of the season. Santiago held the White Sox hitless for five innings.

Al Kaline, playing his 2,000th major-league game, hit a home run for the Tigers and so did Dick McAuliffe and Willie Horton. Joe Sparrma held the Indians to seven hits. Kaline's homer was his 305th, putting him one behind Hank Greenberg, who holds the all-time Detroit record.

Rod Carew was tagged out in a run-down with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth and the Twins' six-game unbeaten streak ended. The Senators scored six times in the fifth inning. Ted Uhlaender and Bob Allison homered for the Twins.

S-C Track Teams Oust Marshall

Coach Paul Schwartz's 8th and 9th grade cindermen scored decisive victories over the visiting Owls of Marshall Thursday at Jennie Jaynes stadium.

In 9th grade competition the Jr. High Tigers took "firsts" in eight events. The first were as follows:

Event	S-C	Time
100 Yd. Dash	Klover	11.2
440 Yd. Run	Klover	57.1
Low Hurdles	Arnest	16.3
Shot	Raumaker	47.8"
Disc	Boggs	124.9"
Pole Vault	Hewett	9'
High Jump	Klover	5'0"
Broad Jump	Klover	18'7"

Final tally of points put the S-C frosh out in front of Marshall 64-45.

In 8th grade action, the S-C team again took high place honors over the Owls 65-34. The Tigers took undisputed firsts in eight events and tied for another.

Firsts were as follows:

100 Yd. Dash	Knoft	12.1
440 Yd. Run	S-C	54.4
Low Hurdles	Knight	13.7
220 Yd. Run	Knoft	27.7
880 Relay	S-C	1:52.4
Shot	S-C	36' 5 1/8"
Disc	Cline	121' 9 1/2"
Pole Vault	Cline	7'
High Jump	Taylor	4' 10"

Nationals May Expand To Twelve Teams

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League may follow the American League and expand to 12 teams for the 1969 baseball season at a meeting of club owners here today.

Warren Giles, NL president, met Thursday with the league's Expansion Committee of Walter O'Malley of Los Angeles, John Galbreath, Pittsburgh, and Roy Hofheinz, Houston.

Among recommendations expected to be presented at today's session is the adding of two new franchises next year.

"It will be up to the league owners to decide what year we will expand," said Giles. "That could be Friday, or maybe later."

Giles admitted that representatives of San Diego, Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Montreal and Milwaukee were in Chicago.

So far, the only definite stand the NL has taken on expansion was to vote to do so not later than 1971.

The American League got the expansion jump with new teams in Seattle and Kansas City for a 12-team operation next year.

Lee Finds Chink In Cards' Armor

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Lee has found a chink in the St. Louis Cardinal armor. The world champions show a definite weakness, around the 12th inning.

Lee, Cincinnati's veteran reliever, picked up his second straight 12th inning victory over the Cards Thursday night and the score both times was 4-3.

In the only other National League games scheduled, Atlanta rode Felipe Alou's second home run of the game to a 5-3 ninth inning victory over Chicago, and Willie Mays' bases-loaded double broke in three runs as San Francisco rallied for a 5-3 victory over the New York Mets.

In the American League, Boston shut out Chicago 3-0, Washington tripped Minnesota 7-6, Detroit blanked Cleveland 5-0, New York topped California 6-1 and Oakland beat Baltimore 4-3 in 13 innings.

Lee worked out of a 12th inning jam and picked up Wednesday's victory when Pete Rose doubled and came in on Lee May's single. On Thursday, the big left-hander had to work a bit harder for the victory, going three innings before another Rose double broke it up.

Rose, who homered tying the game in the eighth, doubled Leo Cardenas across with the winning run in the 12th. Cardenas, who opened with a single, moved to second on Chico Ruiz' hit before Rose delivered.

John Edwards, traded to St. Louis by Cincinnati during the winter, drove in two runs with a double giving the Cards the lead they held until Rose's home run tied the game.

Atlanta was down to its last out, trailing Chicago 3-2 in the ninth. But Sandy Valdespino singled and pinch hitter Mike Lum tripled him home. Pete Mikkelsen relieved for the Cubs and Alou lined his second homer of the game to win it for the Braves.

"It wasn't a bad pitch," said Mikkelsen. "He just hit the heck out of it."

Alou and Clete Boyer had accounted for Atlanta's first two runs with solo homers—Boyer's run batted in was the 500th of his major league career.

day's session is the adding of two new franchises next year.

"It will be up to the league owners to decide what year we will expand," said Giles. "That could be Friday, or maybe later."

Giles admitted that representatives of San Diego, Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Montreal and Milwaukee were in Chicago.

So far, the only definite stand the NL has taken on expansion was to vote to do so not later than 1971.

The American League got the expansion jump with new teams in Seattle and Kansas City for a 12-team operation next year.

Adolfo Phillips had a two-run shot for the Cubs.

It may have been a costly victory for the Braves. Slugger Joe Torre was struck in the side of the head by a pitch in the eighth inning and left the field bleeding from the nose. He was taken to a hospital for X rays.

"The preliminary examination on Torre looks good," said Atlanta Manager Luman Harris.

Mays stroked two doubles against the Mets—the second one clearing the bases in the seventh inning. That wiped out a 3-2 New York lead built mostly on pitcher Don Cardwell's two-run homer.

The Giants had loaded the bases with two out against Cardwell on two singles and a walk. Danny Frisella relieved and Mays sliced a two-strike

Decide Fate Of Mexico City Games

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Nine powerful men assemble this weekend to decide the fate of the Mexico City Olympic Games.

But the rug could be pulled from under their feet by the most powerful of them all—Avery Brundage, the 80-year-old Chicago millionaire who for 16 years has ruled the International Olympic Committee (IOC) with an iron hand.

The Executive Board of the IOC has to decide whether or not to accept the postal vote which admitted South Africa to the Mexico Olympics.

Over 40 nations have threatened to boycott the games if South Africa takes part. There is a strong possibility that they will be joined by the Soviet Union and the rest of the East European bloc, thus making the Olympics a farce.

A sudden decision by IOC President Brundage to fly to South Africa this week touched off speculation that he may be trying to settle the issue alone. Rule 15 of the IOC says:

"The president alone may take action or make a decision where circumstances do not permit it to be taken by the International Olympic Committee or its Executive Board. Such action or decision is subject to ratification by the committee at its next meeting."

In other words, Brundage could simply announce in Johannesburg at his scheduled press conference today: "South Africa is in" or "South Africa is out."

Tigers Overpower New Franklin, 8-0

The Smith-Cotton baseball Tigers overpowered New Franklin Wednesday afternoon, winning 8-0 in a game played at New Franklin.

Winning pitcher for the Tigers was Pat Robinson. Losing for New Franklin was Melkersman.

Smith-Cotton opened the scoring in the first inning. Dalton flied out to center. Williams struck out. Robertson got a single, stole second and went to third on an error.

In the fourth, Gerlec led off and fanned. Thomas grounded out, but Pirtle walked and stole second. Robinson followed him with a single, advancing Pirtle to third. Robinson and Pirtle then executed a double steal. Pirtle scoring and Robinson making it safely to second. S-C led, 3-0.

In the fifth, Williams reached first on an error, but was put out at second on a fielder's choice ground ball by Robertson. Robertson then stole second and went to third on an error. A wild pitch by the New Franklin pitcher brought him in to score. Boehne followed by striking out. Neville walked, stole second, and made it in home on errors. Crowder came in for Gerlec and walked, then went to second on a wild pitch. A passed ball sent Crowder to third, from where he watched Thomas draw a walk. The Tigers then executed their second successful double steal, as Thomas went to second and Crowder came in home to score. Pirtle flied out to center, ending the inning. Score was now 6-0, S-C.

In the sixth, Robinson struck out, then Dalton walked, went to second on a passed ball and stole third. Williams was hit by a pitch and stole second. Roertson then flied out to center, scoring Dalton from third after the catch. Boehne then singled, driving in Williams from second. Glen Holmes, who came in for Neville, got a base on balls. Crowder ended the inning by striking out. Final score, 8-0.

The Tigers gave New Franklin their seventh inning immediately following the home team's sixth, because of approaching darkness, thereby giving up their turn at bat in the top of the seventh.

Gremlins Absorb Third Loss In 12 Track Outings

In their final tune up for 10 days of relays the Sacred Heart Gremlins absorbed their third loss in 12 track outings Thursday.

Chilhowee hosted the Red and White and while the local team went shorthanded the hosts set four school records in their 59-50 victory.

Steve Lineburger of Chilhowee set three of their new records with a 5'6" leap in the high jump, a 23.4 time in the low hurdles, and an 18.8 clocking in the high hurdles. The hosts' other record was set with a 43'6 1/2" shot put heave.

Sacred Heart was able to salvage first with Ed Marino's 5:15.8 time in the mile. Bill Heer's tight finish in the 440, and Martin Hogan's three firsts in the long jump, 100 yard dash, and 220 yard dash.

Earlier this week the Grems hosted Otterville and Leeton, taking both with a total 72 points. Though Martin Hogan finished on top in five events, two others stole the show.

Earl Gerke was involved in four firsts, winning both the shot put and the discus, while also doing turns on the two winning relays.

Another performance was the show of Bill Heer who captured the 880 yard run, second in the 440 yard dash and anchored the mile relay team's victory. James Wanserski had a big day picking up nine points with relay wins and good showings in the 440 yard dash, high and long jump.

Saturday the Gremlins will participate in the Carrollton Relays and will take seven cindermen to partake in eight events. Tuesday they travel to Clinton for relays beginning at 3 p.m. and going under the lights for finals.

Lakes And Ponds Will Offer Best Fishing

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Generally lakes and ponds will offer the best fishing prospects this weekend, the Missouri Conservation Department reported today.

Midweek rains have put many streams on the dingy to muddy list and fishing has deteriorated accordingly.

Individual streams:
Grand and Platte — Muddy with channel cat and carp best.
Nodaway — Muddy. Channel cat fair.

Chariton and Blackwater — Muddy and poor.

Mississippi — Slightly dingy. White bass, channel cat and crappie good.

Salt — Clear. White bass fair, channel cat good.

Cuivre — Clear. Crappie fair, channel cat good.

Pomme de terre — Clear. Carp, bullheads and suckers fair below dam, crappie good in upper river.

Sac — Clear. Catfish fair, carp and suckers good.

Upper Osage — Clear. Carp and drum good.

Gasconade and Big Niangua — Dingy. Goggle-eye good.

Meramec and Big River — High and dingy. Effect of scattered heavy rains still unknown.

Big Piney and Current — Clear but fishing poor.

Eleven Point — Dingy. Fishing fair.

Jacks Fork — Clear. Fishing poor.

Black — Slightly dingy. Panfish fair.

St. Francis and Castor — Slightly dingy. Panfish fair.

James and Elk — Clear. Channel cat and panfish good to fair.

Lakes:
Bull Shoals — Clear. Crappie good in upper lake, white bass fair to good and channel cat and bass fair.

Taneycomo — Clear. Trout good, bass fair.

Table Rock — Clear. Crappie best, black bass fair to good, channel cat and white bass fair.

Clearwater — Clearing. Crappie good, others poor.

Wappapello — Clear to dingy. Crappie best.

Norfork — Clear. Fishing poor.

Pomme de Terre — Dingy to clear. Bass and crappie good.

Lake of the Ozarks — Clear. Crappie best, bass and walleye fair.

Pony Express — Dingy. Buegill and channel cat fair, bass poor.

Jacommo and Trimble — Clear. Crappie good, bluegill fair.

Thomas Hill — Dingy. Bass, crappie and channel cat fair.

Honnell — Clear. Bass excellent.

Little Dixie — Clear. Bass fair.

Montrose — Clear. Catfish fair bass and crappie good.

Duck Creek — Clear. Crappie, drum and bluegill good.

Trout areas — Clearing and should be good by weekend barring further heavy rains.

Baltimore Bullets Win Money Battle

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets won the financial battle for Westley Unseld but the U.S. Army might get first crack at the two-time All-American's services.

Unseld, 6-foot-7 1/4 center from the University of Louisville, signed an undisclosed long-term contract with the National Basketball Association club Thursday and said he still hadn't heard word regarding the Army physical he took recently.

The maximum height for the Army is 6-foot-8.

The Louisville club of the rival American Basketball Association also wanted Unseld's services and claimed they had offered him $500,000.

Unseld's lawyer, Robert Madox denied this.

Polly's Pointers®
Sewing Area Kept Tidy
With Tissue-Box Catchall

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Today facial tissues are so attractively boxed it seems a shame to throw away the empty containers. One, taped with transparent tape to the end of my sewing machine cabinet, is ideal for holding small sewing scraps and bits of thread. Another is used in the laundry area to hold clothing labels with washing instructions. Still another is perfect for holding soiled hose until I am ready to wash them.

Another idea for keeping the sewing area tidy is to place the divided section of an egg carton next to your machine to hold the assorted items used frequently.—JOAN

DEAR POLLY—Last summer, while at Expo 67, I saw a mother with a very clever way of keeping her family together in a crowd. She had made dresses from the same bright fabric for herself and her daughter. Shirts for her two sons were also made of the same material. If one should get separated from the others their clothing made it easier to spot the lost one or the rest of the family group.—DEBBIE

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Is there any way to keep white fiber-glass drapes white?—MRS. G. K.

DEAR POLLY—I think I can help Marty Mae display her pennants without damaging papered walls. Our family has been collecting pennants for souvenirs while on trips all over the United States and Canada. We slide ours on a thin wire that is hung on the wall between two nails or tape-backed picture hangers.—MIKE

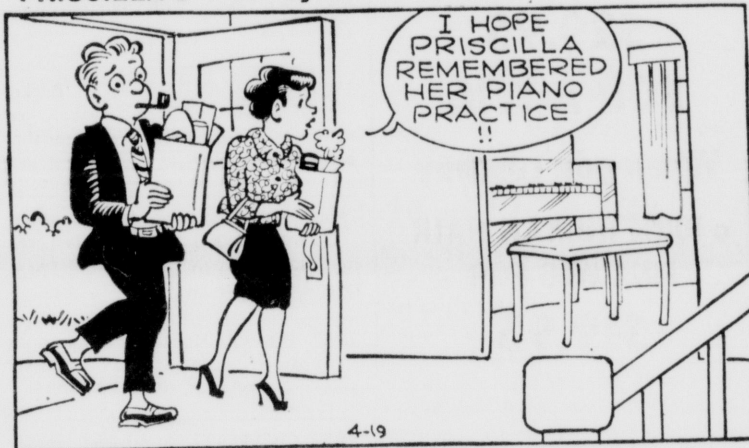

DEAR POLLY—My daughter used a stapler and fine staples to display felt pennants on the papered wall in her room. This worked very well as the tiny holes made by the staples did not show unless one looked very closely.—LUCILLE

DEAR POLLY—My daughter used small, brass straight pins to fasten pennants on her wall as they leave only tiny holes. If the pennants are to stay in place until the room is redecorated, colored thumbtacks are fine but we think they are more noticeable than pins.

I read how Mrs. E. S. made two nice bedside tables out of her old vanity dresser. Remove the mirror from such a vanity, refinish and you will have a nice desk for a child's room. Replace the stool with a chair and your child has a wonderful place to do homework.—MARGARET

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a high school senior who gets along O.K. The problem is my father. He's a self-made man and doesn't let for forget it for a minute. He keeps badgering me to be "tops," although I have tried to make him understand that not everybody can make the grade, or wants to.

Is there anything wrong with being just an average guy? The double domes and eager beavers in our school are laughed at behind their backs. Average guys seem happier and are better liked. They aren't always in a sweat. They are also oater rounded because they aren't breaking their heads to excel in one thing—like grades. I am satisfied to just get by. Please tell my dad that there is nothing wrong with being an average guy and to get off my back. When I try to tell him he gets mad.—ME

Dear You: I don't think you have to worry about being tops. With your attitude there's little danger.

Not everyone can be a world-beater. It takes energy, drive, tenacity and discipline. You seem quite proud of the fact that you have none of these qualities.

Since you are content to "just get by" I trust you are also prepared to settle for everything that goes with mediocrity. I trust, too, that you won't be bitter when you see your ambitious, hardworking buddies reap the rewards that come with making it big in this highly competitive world.

Dear Ann Landers: I am going crazy and I need your help. I took this secretarial job three weeks ago. It pays extremely well and the people are pleasant. The problem is my boss. The first thing he does when he comes to the office is turn on the radio and it stays on until he leaves. I go home at the end of the day completely exhausted. It is only 9:45 a.m. as I write this letter and already the side of my head is numb. I am taking tranquilizers and have tried ear plugs but they make me nervous because I am afraid I will not hear the boss' buzzer.

The station my boss prefers is a high frequency station and there must be something about the tone that reacts badly on my ears. He once had the radio on FM and it didn't bother me at all. Perhaps an ear specialist could explain this.

I must work to support my children, and this is a dream job. Dare I suggest to my boss that he turn the radio off, change stations or wear earphones? What do you say?—SOUND AND FURY

Dear S. and F. A job that makes a nervous wreck out of a woman is not a dream job — no matter how much it pays.

My advice is to give notice — explain why you are leaving and

Motorcycle Officer Killed in Mishap

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A motorcycle policeman was injured fatally Thursday night while chasing two speeding cars at Genesee and Twelfth.

Larry Oliver, 30, died in a hospital about two hours after his motorcycle hit two other cars and he was thrown against a brick building. Witnesses estimated the speed of the chase at 50 miles an hour.

Oliver had been on the police force nine years.

Mansfield Doubts VC Are Reds

HONOLULU (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says it is "very questionable" whether the Viet Cong is a Communist organization.

He made the statement on a discussion program produced by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin and KHVV-TV, Honolulu.

Mansfield also indicated a deep division of opinion about Communist China may exist between President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Mansfield said President Johnson does not view the Vietnam war as a confrontation with Red China.

Asked if that position wasn't in conflict with recent testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in which Rusk conjured up the "specter" of a billion Chinese threatening southeast Asia, Mansfield replied:

"I think he was ill-advised to say what he did. I don't think he thought through what he said."

Mansfield said the United States should withdraw from Vietnam as soon as is honorably possible because "we have no vital interest there and . . . it is not necessary to the security of the United States."

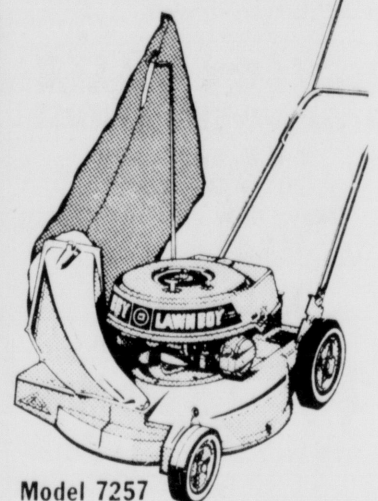

He added he regarded as invalid the theory that with U.S. forces gone the nations of Southeast Asia would topple like dominoes.

"The war in Vietnam, allegations to the contrary, is a civil war because the Viet Cong are South Vietnamese," he said.

Mansfield was in Honolulu participating in the eighth annual Mexico-United States Interparliamentary Conference.

CARGILL HI-SUGAR 50

"Yields 24 Tons Per Acre"

Said Jack Wasson of Vandalia, Missouri

Even though the cows got into the field and broke down many stalks, Wasson chopped 24 tons of sweet silage from each acre of Hi-Sugar 50.

In filling his trench silo, Wasson found the compaction was good. The sugary juice in the stalk seals the pile and keeps spoilage very low.

Cargill Hi-Sugar 50 has the ability to store up to 19% sugar in its tall stalk and broad leaves.

A 100 ton silo filled with this unusual silage corn contains the equivalent of 1,800 gallons of thick sweet syrup.

Order Cargill Hi-Sugar 50 from your Cargill dealer today.

Garner's His Old Self Again

By DICK KLEINER

NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—James Garner is back playing Maverick. They don't call it that, of course—they call it "Support Your Local Sheriff!"—but it's practically the same character.

"It seems to be," Jim said. "If I'd known it was going to be so much like Maverick, I don't think I would have done it."

He's kidding. He knew. After all, the picture is being made by Jim's own company, Cherokee Productions. As an example of how personal a production this is, consider this—Jim wanted Joan Hackett for his leading lady. His leading lady is Joan Hackett.

They were shooting on MGM's back lot, on a western street that was newly old-painted. Plenty of extras and horses milled about as Garner drove the bad guys out of town by throwing rocks at them, something Maverick might have done.

"I'm going to aim the rocks at that woodpile," Garner said, as they lined up the shot. "But watch your heads—I've been known to miss."

One of the takes was ruined when a horse, tied to a railing, skittishly jumped around when director Burt Kennedy called "Action."

"Let's not say that word," Garner said. "Instead of A-C-T-I-O-N, just wave at me."

Kennedy, one of Hollywood's pleasantest directors, is blessed by good weather and a co-operative cast and a great crew. With so much Hollywood production overseas, he had his pick of technicians, and has nothing but the best. As a result, the company is two days ahead of schedule, after only 10 days of shooting.

"Doing a comedy western is tough," Kennedy says. "You're treading on hallowed ground."

For Joan Hackett, "Support Your Local Sheriff!" is a first—an attempt at broad, almost-slapstick comedy. Since she is a first-rate actress, as well as the possessor of a fine sense of comedy, nobody is worried about her cutting it. Garner thinks she's doing wonderfully.

She had one scene climbing a tree. The script wanted her to have nothing much on at the time, to lend a little cheesecake to the general proceedings. But Joan, partly out of modesty but mostly out of a feel for what is funny, thought it would be better if she revealed an expanse of red underwear. Both Garner and Kennedy went along with her suggestion.

Joan, a native and dedicated New Yorker, has adjusted slowly to California living. She married Richard Mulligan—television's The Hero—and tried to settle down and be a good Los Angelean.

"I missed New York," she says. "I missed not being able to go into Bloomingdale's and see everybody I know. Here I was stuck up on top of a hill—a lovely hill, but still a hill—and I never saw anybody. I used to drive around and when I stopped for a red light, I'd smile at the people in the next car, just to have somebody to smile at."

"I cried at least once a week. So we moved to an apartment overlooking Saks. I could watch them unloading the merchandise. It wasn't

'Mystery Box' Case Solved by Divers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—U.S. Navy frogmen solved the case of the "mystery box" to the tune of Mexican bands. Bathers below the border at Tijuana reported discovery of a big box covered with sand and Mexican newspapers voiced concern over possible radio activity from what they called the "mystery box." But authorities couldn't find any such object.

After two days of searching, the frogmen found a five-foot gasoline storage tank and as they searched "at least 1,000 Mexicans gathered on the bluff above the beach. They even brought bands," a Navy spokesman said.

A person's fingerprints never change.

Bloomingdale's, but was better than nothing."

She wasn't happy about her work, either. After "The Group"—rave reviews, awards, the whole laudatory scene—strangely nothing much happened. She says she had eight months of nothing.

But then she did "Will Penny" and now this, and things are better all around. Back on the set, Jim Garner was shooting a promotional film for Christmas seals. You'll see it on television next winter. Better do your Christmas shopping early.

On Strike

Des Moines, Iowa—Declaring "I'm a striker, not a hippie," Mrs. Cheri Ahillen, clad in flowered jeans, happily leads a group of fellow telephone operators from the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. building Friday to join the nationwide Communications Workers of America strike against the company. (UPI)

Rockefeller Lauded For 'New Federalism' View

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York won sustained applause from the nation's editors Thursday after calling for a 10-year, $150-billion program to meet the needs of the nation's cities.

Rockefeller told the American Society of Newspaper Editors at its annual convention that American cities "have been breeding slums faster than any other western nation."

He called for "the new federalism" in which the government would become a sparkplug and coordinator rather than a monolithic power center, and would lend its credit to the raising of vast development sums from the private sector.

Though he has declared himself out of active contention for the Republican presidential nomination, a handful of teen-agers carried banners urging "Rocky-Run!" into the banquet hall where about 550 editors and their wives gave the New Yorker a standing ovation when he rose to speak.

He was introduced by Turner Catledge, executive editor of the New York Times, who observed that the Times has been urging Rockefeller to change his mind. But Rockefeller hasn't always followed the Times' advice in the past, Catledge added.

Rockefeller notified the editors that "I have no shoes to drop on this occasion."

On Friday the editors' luncheon speaker will be former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is an avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Road Work Is Given Approval

The Missouri State Highway Commission gave approval to the tentative right of way and construction program for the 1969 fiscal year, beginning July 1 on state supplementary or farm-to-market roads.

The approved programs total $34,815,000 and extend over 297 miles. Of the funds approved, 32,497,000 will go for construction and improvements and $2,318,000 for the purchase of right of way.

Roads in the Democrat-Capital area included are:

Benton County: bridge at Cole Camp Creek north of Edmondson with six-tenths of a mile of grading and surfacing approaches.

Henry County: Route K, 7.7 miles of grading and paving, bridging and resurfacing from Route 7 to Route 18 except the section at the South Grand River.

Saline County: Route 2A (A) with 5.8 miles of grading and surfacing from Route EE to west of Marshall. Also work on Route 127 (K) with 1.2 miles of grading and paving from Old Springs. Additional work will be done on Route BB with seven-tenths of a mile of grading, bridging and surfacing and about 1.3 miles south of U.S. Route 65.

Johnson County: work will be done on Route 2 (C) 21.3 miles of resurfacing from Route ZZ (See ROAD, Page 4.)

Little Interruption Of Phone Service Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some 165,000 telephone workers walked out in a wage dispute Thursday in their first nationwide strike in 21 years, but there appeared little initial interruption of phone service.

"The strike is on," said Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers, as he urged another 500,000 telephone employees to refuse to cross the strikers' picket lines.

Beirne then joined a picket line at the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Washington for about an hour.

Officials of the Bell Telephone System and its parent firm, American Telephone & Telegraph Co., said they expect to maintain almost normal service as supervisors took over many jobs.

But Beirne said if management officials think they can run the huge national telephone network for long without the striking union members, "They must be taking something somewhat stronger than LSD."

Management officials said there might be some initial problems with person-to-person long-distance calls and other services requiring an operator's assistance.

Most heavily affected immediately will be orders for new phones and transfers of phones because the strikers include 23,000 telephone installers who work for the Bell manufacturing subsidiary, Western Electric Co.

Beirne said telephone credit card users also will be seriously affected because credit calls require an operator. "Eighty to 85 per cent of all long distance calls are charged," Beirne said.

The telephone installers unit of the union is on strike in about 40 states. In addition strikers include Bell system switchboard operators, repairmen, testers, linemen, clerks and other workers in 15 states and the District of Columbia.

Other Bell System contracts covering another 116,000 Communications Workers in 16 additional states expire at various times within the next few weeks.

The union has rejected company pay increase offers of 7.5 per cent over 18 months. Bell officials said the union is demanding 10.5 per cent. Installers now average $3.27 per hour and other telephone workers $2.79 hourly.

"We have been, and remain fluid—willing to talk, willing to consider, willing to negotiate," Beirne said at a news conference.

"The position of the CWA is not frozen," he said.

Beirne said talks between Western Electric and union officials are continuing in New York.

B52's Pound Enemy

SAIGON (AP)—B52s loosed their massive bombing power Thursday on the A Shau Valley, where the North Vietnamese are building up troop and armored strength—a possible lunge at Hue.

The U.S. Command said the eight-engine Stratofortresses had staged their biggest aerial blow of the war in the previous 24 hours, dumping more than 1,500 tons of bombs on the valley 25 miles southwest of the old imperial capital.

One flight concentrated on "tracked vehicles," a military spokesman said. This could mean either tanks or armored personnel carriers.

Vietnamese sources said the North Vietnamese 325C Division had moved into the valley from its abandoned siege lines at Khe Sanh, 50 miles north of the valley.

If so, some of the tracked vehicles could be tanks. This enemy division used tanks for the first time in the war Feb. 7 in overrunning Lang Vei, a Special Forces outpost four miles west of Khe Sanh.

The B52s have been working over the valley regularly recently to try to stop what intelligence reports described as a steady buildup of troops, trucks, armor and supplies. It is estimated they have dropped 8,910 tons of bombs in the valley since April 1.

Despite the fact there have been only scattered clashes recently in South Vietnam, the number of U.S. soldiers killed last week rose to 363.

Circuit Court Judge Frank Hayes Wednesday continued the case of Bill N. and Cynthia Glenn against the City of Sedalia, in the dispute over the sanitary landfill near Beaman, until April 29.

In announcing the continuance, the Judge said, "Sedalia needs a place to dispose of garbage because it is a city obligation. On the other hand the city must afford as little discomfort as possible to residents by following state laws and rules. I am inclined to think that they (the city) have not followed these rules."

Judge Hayes gave his decision following the close of the case at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Attorney for the plaintiffs, James T. Buckley, finished his arguments late Wednesday morning and defense attorneys James Durlay and R. J. Fitz called several city officials to the witness stand, including Vernon Ditton, Director of Streets and Alleys, Director of Public Works and City Engineer Robert Cunningham and former City Councilman Walter Jessee.

The plaintiffs alleged the city left refuse and garbage uncovered, which created a strong odor and paper problem. But the defense alleged the trenches that refuse was placed in were covered at all times after hours.

The Judge concluded his statement by saying, "In the meantime what happens depends on what the city does. If the situation gets worse, the city could be in for a very substantial fine."

Look Into Report Of Smuggling

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee is investigating a report that the CIA once removed Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam as commanding officer of a secret sabotage operation because he used it as a front for opium smuggling.

The report was made available to the Associated Press by the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures, headed by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska.

Joseph Lippman, staff director of the subcommittee, said the report was considered highly reliable, but refused permission to name or in any way identify its source.

The 1963-64 sabotage operation, called Operation Haylift, was flying Vietnam agents into North Vietnam for the purpose

St. Paul's Pastor Accepts New Post

The Rev. Walter F. Strickert, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church the past 20 years, will leave that post at the end of April.

At a recent meeting of the local congregation the pastor was given a peaceful release to accept a call to begin a new ministry and to establish a congregation in West St. Louis County.

Rev. Strickert

Activity of the new ministry will be centered chiefly in the West Creve Coeur area between U.S. Highways 40 and I-70. This is one of the most rapidly developing residential areas in St. Louis County.

Rev. Strickert received his call from the District Mission Board, and he will be employed by this board until the new congregation is organized. He will conduct his farewell services at St. Paul's church on

Rockefeller told the editors that the decay of the city historically has marked the decline of civilizations, and that today the city is "our trial and our test, as a free people."

Rockefeller called for an "imaginative and responsible use of credit" to raise the funds needed to restore the cities. The potential power to raise capital and provide jobs outside the government is five times greater than the potential of the government, he said.

Sunday, April 28. On the same date the congregation will honor the family with a farewell covered dish dinner at 1 p.m.

At St. Paul's church Rev. Strickert succeeded the late Rev. H. H. Heidbreder, who died in July, 1948. He became pastor of the church in the fall of that year.

Under Rev. Strickert's leadership during the past twenty years the membership at St. Paul's church more than doubled. Attendance at worship services tripled. Double-header services were started in 1949 in order to accommodate the growing number of worshippers.

Enrollment in Sunday school increased from 59 to 290. Contributions increased from $12,000 per year to $84,000 annually. The value of church property increased from $75,000 to $275,000.

Highlights of his ministry here included the guidance of a building program culminating in the construction of an educational building in 1955 and an addition to the plant in 1965, the opening of a Lutheran elementary school and kindergarten, and the fostering (See ST. PAUL'S, Page 4.)

Work In Tanzania

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP)—Thirty-one doctors, six nurses and five interpreters arrived here by ship this week from Red China to work in rural Tanzania. The same ship brought more than 100 survey workers for the Tanzania-Zambia rail line being promoted and financed by the Peking Communist government.

To Publish Directory

The Sedalia Democrat and Capital will publish the National ZIP Code Directory, to enable residents of this area to readily determine the proper ZIP Code for different areas throughout the country.

The directory will be published in the April 30 Democrat and the May 1 Capital. The directory will carry the ZIP listings alphabetically by state and city. All of the states in the nation will be represented.

Scout Mascot Here

Pedro, straight from Boys' Life Magazine and the Philmont Scout Ranch, will be among the features of the Boy Scout Scout-O-Rama set for Saturday in the Agriculture Building on the fairgrounds. Pedro, during his stay in Sedalia, is the guest of the Martin Biggs family, 1503 East Fourth. He is shown above with Karen Biggs, 13, and Mike Biggs, 11.

Annual Scout-O-Rama Is Set For Saturday

The 1968 Scout-O-Rama for Twin Forks District, Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America, is scheduled for Saturday at the Agricultural Building on the Missouri State Fairgrounds.

Featured at the Scout-O-Rama will be Pedro, generally considered the Boy Scouts' mascot and often seen in connection with Boys' Life Magazine and Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico.

Scout-O-Rama events get underway at 3 p.m. Saturday and last until 8. During this time there will be a state show at 4 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. Special fun events for all scouts in attendance are scheduled for 4:30 and 7.

Attending the event will be Cub Scout packs Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts.

Bill Dugan, Route 4, is the Scout-O-Rama chairman, and Scott Burkholder, 2401 Margaret, is vice-chairman.

Jim Callis, Route 2, is Twin Forks District Activities Chairman, under whose jurisdiction the Scout-O-Rama falls.

New Midwest Auto Store

Recessed Parking for New Store

By Ralph Jones
Democrat Capital Staff Writer

The extensive renovation now going on at the old Askren-Caine Furniture Co. building at Fourth and Lamine will present an unusual concept in downtown Sedalia shopping.

The renovated building will be occupied by the Midwest Auto Co. store, Paul Hausam, president. It will be somewhat unusual in two ways. It will feature over the sidewalk parking for customers and a Gold Bond stamp redemption center with unusual aspects.

Special Parking Included

The special parking feature is being obtained by knocking out the wall which formerly was against the sidewalk, and recessing the new wall some 22 feet inside of the building. This will make way for eight cars to park under the roofed-in space that was formerly inside of the building.

Arrangements for this feature are in agreement with the Sedalia City Council, whose permission was obtained before the work started, Hausam said. Four parking meters are being removed, and the firm is paying an annual sum to the city to replace revenue lost through the removal of the meters.

Approval by Council

Special arrangements were made with the council to allow across-the-sidewalk parking. For safety, the east wall of the parking area is being removed so parked drivers can see traffic moving on Lamine, and a hose like warning device is being installed to warn pedestrians that cars are moving across the sidewalk. In addition, for pedestrian safety, the firm is installing three blinker lights warning pedestrians to "Watch Out For Cars."

The Tempel-Callison Co. is doing the renovation. The move is contemplated for mid summer. The firm will be designated by four-foot orange lettering, the same size as that on the building now.

To Have Service Area

Another feature of the store will be a four-bay car service (See RECESSED PARKING, P. 4.)

EDITORIALS

Where Is Angry Public?

The repetitious rash of break-ins at business establishments and homes in Sedalia is becoming a perpetual nuisance. The damage to property and equipment is perhaps of more consequence to the owners than the loss of money or merchandise.

Many of these incidents appear so unnew that it must be assumed the robbers are not adults but rather youngsters on the prowl more for kicks than personal gain.

Some of the break-ins require enough physical force that properly applied could bring in some honest mulling in exchange for mowing lawns or pulling weeds for a neighbor.

One wonders how it is that so many groups of youngsters can operate continuously without detection or arousing the curiosity of their parents. Or why it is the conversation of juveniles, and even older boys, about their nightly forays does not reach the ears of the law enforcement officials by means of the grapevine. These culprits of petty stealing can't resist bragging about their escapades.

Sedalia is not alone in contending with one of the great problems of law enforcement—the common failure of citizens to fully support and cooperate with the authorities.

Why get the kids in trouble with the law, they were only trying to have a little excitement and anyway what they stole doesn't amount to enough to raise a big holler about. This seems to be the attitude. They really didn't mean to do it.

Follow this trend of reasoning up to the riot or bank robbery stage and you can see what Mr. Appathetic Citizen is witlessly encouraging.

The public that bewails major law breaking episodes needs to become more concerned about what the kids are doing roaming around town until midnight and after.

An earnest effort to become more involved in cooperation with law enforcement officials is long overdue, as well as support of a get tougher policy against law breakers young or old.

An indifferent public is the potential lawbreaker's protector. An alert and angry public, eager to assist police and other law agencies, can be the law breaker's best deterrent.

Park Worries Over U.S. Softness

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The main reason for President Johnson's meeting with President Chung Hee Park of South Korea is because Park expects the North Koreans to break the 15-year truce in Korea. Either the Korean Communists will plunge again across the 38th parallel, Park is warning President Johnson, or they will flood the south with infiltrators.

The Bantam South Korean leader also believes fiercely that American softness toward North Korea will merely encourage the Reds to renew the Korean War. The United States has taken pains to prevent the eruption of a second front in Korea while American troops are fighting in Vietnam. But Park thinks this restraint will be interpreted as weakness and, more likely, will embolden the North Koreans.

These were President Park's views when I talked with him in Seoul a few weeks before his meeting with President Johnson. The tough, taciturn Park wanted to pursue an eye-for-an-eye policy — "prudent retaliation," he suggested — against North Korea's hot-tempered dictator Kim Il Sung. But the American authorities persuaded him to hold his fire and his fury.

The seizure of the spy ship Pueblo and the attempt to assassinate Park, which made headlines in January, merely climaxed a succession of harassments. They came on top of 400 incidents along the demilitarized zone last year.

"Casualties have been inflicted; sabotage has been committed; agents have been infiltrated into the republic of Korea," President Park recounted. Each incident has become more bold, he said, because of U.S. failure to retaliate.

"Firm determination and resolute action," he insisted "would not escalate the crisis but would discourage dangerous incidents in the future."

—Tough Man — Soft Words—

The United States preoccupied with Vietnam, has chosen to play down the incidents. Not so President Park and his people. These hostile acts are a constant reminder to the South Koreans of the threat that lurks just beyond the demarcation line.

Park's soft voice seemed to belie his tough words. But as the belligerence swelled up inside him, he would slash the air with a silver pointer to emphasize his meaning. Then he would pause and lay down his pointer while he lit a cigarette. As he inhaled deeply, the passion seemed to float away from him like the smoke. He chain-smokes Korean cigarettes and forbids government employees to smoke anything else, in order to build up the Korean economy.

The real reason for American timidity in Korea, of course, was simply that the U.S. lacked the military force to respond. The Armed Services were so bogged down in Vietnam that they had lost the ability to act elsewhere in the Far East.

This was dramatized by the difference in how the U.S. reacted in August 1964 to an attack on a spy ship in the Gulf of Tonkin, as contrasted in January 1968 with the seizure of a spy ship off the North Korean coast.

In the earlier incident, the USS Maddox was said to be attacked by patrol boats while she was engaged in an electronic espionage mission along the North Vietnamese coast. The extent of the attack may have been magnified by a malfunctioning radar set. There was enough certainty, at least, that Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, the Pacific Commander, felt compelled to query the Maddox: "Can you confirm absolutely that you were attacked?"

Despite this doubt, an angry United States struck

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

An election of senior and junior council presidents was held at Smith-Cotton High School with the following results: Senior Council President, Don Lamm; Vice-President, Betty Rowe. Junior Council President, Billy Leake; and Vice-President, Jimmy Paull.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Dr. D. P. Dyer has been selected by the Missouri State Fair board to serve as Superintendent of the Emergency Hospital. Dr. L. C. Edmonds will be his assistant. Nurses in charge will be Mrs. Grace Hosford and Miss Nomah Large.

NINETY YEARS AGO

Matters are exceedingly dull in police circles again. It has been four months since a female was arrested under the sundown ordinance. Where, or where, is Bustinah Beulah?

back by bombing North Vietnam. This set off a chain reaction, which has entangled the United States in an unpopular jungle war. The cost last week reached 21,054 American lives, plus more than $26 billion a year.

—U.S. Changes Tactics—

Three years and five months after the Maddox incident, the USS Pueblo was apprehended by patrol boats while she was engaged in a similar electronic espionage mission along the North Korean coast. The ship not only was fired upon but was boarded by the Communists while the crew radioed plaintively: "How about some help? These guys mean business."

Yet Secretary of State Rusk and then-Secretary of Defense McNamara, instead of sending help, half-apologized on TV for the intrusion into North Korean waters. This humility was necessary, it was explained, to safeguard the crew.

The truth is that the United States had only four planes in South Korea at the time. These were loaded with nuclear weapons which, if used, would have pulverized the Pueblo along with the patrol boats. Anyway, it is doubtful that the four planes could ever have reached the Pueblo. When they approached the 38th parallel on a probing mission, at least 100 North Korean aircraft soared up to intercept them.

Another 40 U.S. planes were located in Japan, within flying distance of Korea. But these were also no match for the North Korean Air Force. Around Wonsan alone, where the captured Pueblo was taken, the North Koreans had more than 75 swift, Soviet-built fighters. The harbor bristles with anti-aircraft guns and heavy artillery.

President Park has also had some advice for LBJ on the Vietnam truce talks. Park told me that the United States should go ahead with the negotiations but should settle for nothing short of permanent peace.

A peace treaty still hasn't been signed in Korea 15 years after the truce. The Communists have used the intervening period to build up their military strength. Their aim to take over the entire country, Park said, hasn't changed.

"If the Korean War had not been stopped," he said, "we would have been able to crush the Communist element, and we wouldn't be faced with the problems we still suffer."

He urged that the lesson of Korea should not be forgotten in Vietnam.

People: Computer Robots

If you're worried about the nation's urban crisis, relax.

"Modern methods of input-output and matrix methods, simulation modelings and feedback theory . . . and use of control systems hold great promise in helping to solve some aspects of the complex problems we face in our cities."

So claims "Control Engineering" magazine in words to stir the heart of any data processor.

What this far-out language means is simply that the electronic computer is beginning to do yeoman service in attacking some of the people-jams in crowded, 20th-century, urbanized America.

Three Philadelphia high schools, for instance, are using a computer-assisted instruction system to give individual assignments to students as well as evaluate their individual progress.

In the field of mass transportation, "applications of control technology" are pointing the way to the movement of more people farther and faster.

In the area of environmental control, low-cost, rugged units which will measure air and water pollution and reduce the causes of contamination are being developed.

Along the way, this country may be splitting into two societies—one that speaks English and another that speaks computerese. But that's a small price to pay for progress.

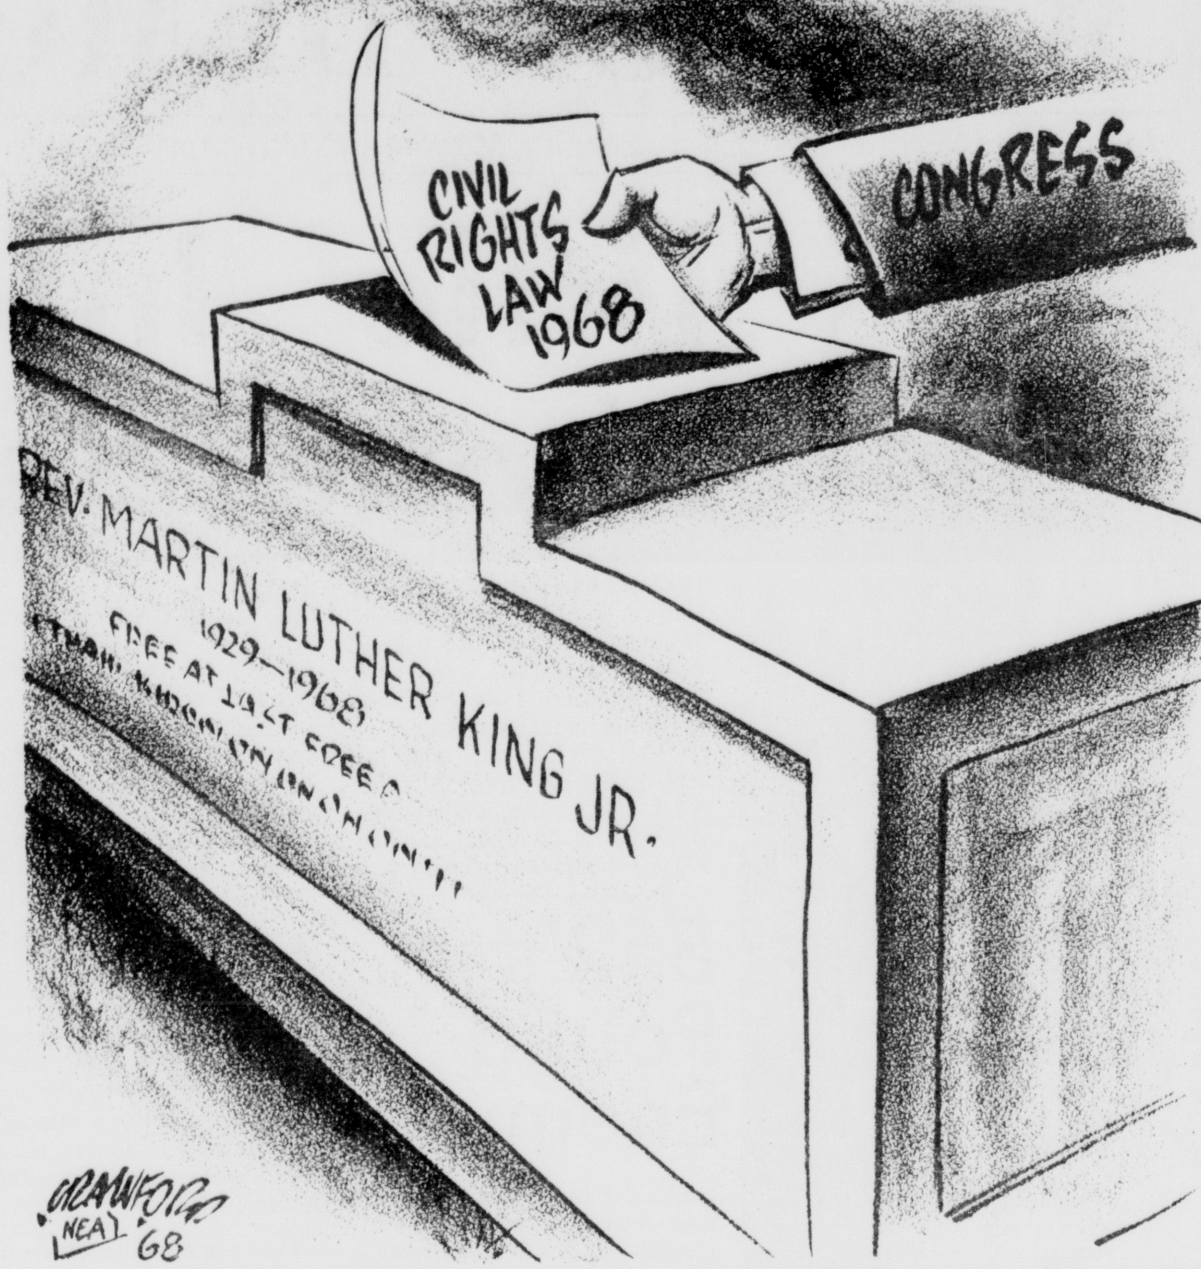

Motorcycles

It has been estimated that motorcycle registrations will total 2,190,822 in the United States by the end of 1967. This is an increase of 438,000 over the 1,752,801 registered in 1966. These figures include all motorcycles, motor bicycles and motor scooters—most states do not separate them in their records.

No Originals Left

There are no extant original manuscripts of the New Testament as they were written by the Apostles. All originals have been lost and only copies remain. None of these date from the time when the Apostles were still living.

An Expressive Tribute

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Damsel in Distress

Gallantry may impel a bystander to go to the aid of a damsel in distress. But if gallantry doesn't, does law? Do you have any legal obligation to help someone — man, woman, or child — whom you see under attack by a third person?

Generally speaking, the answer is no. If you are a total stranger, having played no role in bringing on the difficulty, you have no duty — legally — to go to the rescue.

Thus, bystanders who looked on and did nothing, while a drunken youth slashed a hotel clerk with a knife, were held not liable to the victim.

This doctrine is based partly on our traditions of individualism, partly on the difficulties of devising and enforcing a legal standard of selfishness.

Nevertheless, courts have shown an increasing readiness to find a duty to help when there is some special relationship between the bystander and the victim. For then, in a sense, they are no longer total strangers.

What kind of relationship may create a duty of assistance?

One example is the relationship between a merchant and his customer. For instance, the owner of a restaurant was held liable for failing to help a young woman being assaulted by a pair of troublemakers. The court said:

"A restaurant keeper may not sit idly by and leave it to the customer to extricate himself from danger."

Similarly, a protective obligation may arise from other relationships: employer and employee, carrier and passenger, hotel and guest, hospital and patient.

Still, the duty of rescue is not unlimited. The law will weigh the particular circumstances, not only to decide if there is such a duty but also to decide how far it extends.

Was there enough time to interfere before the harm was done? Did the person under attack seem able to take care of himself? Might a rescue attempt have made matters worse?

Thus, a court held that the proprietor of a bowling alley was justified in staying out of a scuffle between a patron and an armed robber. The judge decided that, in the face of a gun, the proprietor's discretion was the better part of valor.

Hard Boiling of Eggs Cuts Salmonella Danger

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Is there any harm in eating eggs that have been removed from the shell and kept in the refrigerator?

A—If the eggs were good to begin with and are not kept so long as to have spoiled, they can be eaten raw or cooked. If, however, the shells were cracked before you took the eggs out of the carton there is danger of bacterial (Salmonella) food poisoning. Refrigeration does not lessen this danger but thorough cooking (hard boiling) will eliminate it.

Q—My husband eats about six eggs a day. He is 46 and not overweight. Could that number of eggs have any bad effect?

A—Although eggs are an excellent food, their yolks have a high cholesterol content. Most doctors now advise eating three to six eggs a week.

Q—Does eating raw egg whites harm the kidneys?

A—No.

Q—What foods are permitted on a bland reducing diet?

A—A bland diet omits pepper, mustard, horseradish, vinegar, catsup and spices in general. Also, it should contain a minimum of roughage — no raw fruit or vegetable and no bran. A small amount of pureed vegetable or fruit is sometimes allowed. A reducing diet omits most but not all of what's left. That explains the popularity of the several products that give 225 calories per serving and still supply all of the body's needs.

Q—Is it beneficial or harmful to take a little nap after a meal? Could it cause obesity?

A—A 15- or 20-minute nap after the noon or evening meal is an excellent restorative for both muscle and mind. Obesity will result only if a person eats more food than he needs for his daily activity—too much food and too little exercise.

Q—I have rheumatism and was told not to eat acid-forming foods. What foods should I avoid?

A—The acidity of any food in your body depends on its ash or residue when it is fully consumed. Peas of any kind help to alkalize your system. The same is true of berries (except cranberries), cherries and rhubarb in spite of the fact that they contain a weak acid and have a tart taste. If you wish to avoid ash-formers, you should cut down on, but not eliminate from your diet, fish, fowl, red meat, corn, peanuts and sweets.

My father used to write about a character named "Generous George." George was a fairly obnoxious person but a mighty good bridge player. His forte was to give away a trick accompanied by a speech about generosity. Then George would get two or three tricks back for the one he had been kind enough to give away.

Today's hand is taken from a practice match in which our team was engaged. My teammate Ira Corn Jr. emulated Generous George in part. He deliberately gave away a trick, but he didn't really give that trick to our opponents. He gave away the trick so that I could pick up several tricks later on as his partner.

My heart overall was nothing to be proud of, but we weren't vulnerable and I wanted to encourage a heart lead in case South became the declarer. Ira would probably have opened the jack of hearts in any event but my overall made that lead certain.

South held off two heart leads but had to win the third. Then he entered dummy with the king of spades and led the queen of diamonds. My king lost to his ace and at this point Ira came up with the winning generous play. He dropped his jack of diamonds under declarer's ace!

We were playing the match with International Match Point scoring. This makes the game similar to rubber bridge. Ira risked allowing an overtrick when he jettisoned the jack of diamonds and while no one likes to give away even an overtrick, the game is what really counts and since I did hold the nine of diamonds, Ira's play set the game contract.

Twice the United States has had three presidents within the same calendar year, notes The World Almanac. On March 4, 1841, Van Buren was succeeded by William Henry Harrison, who died a month later, whereupon John Tyler became president. Rutherford B. Hayes was succeeded on March 4, 1881, by James A. Garfield, who died Sept. 19, 1881, and Chester A. Arthur became president that day.

The World Today

Direct Action Gaining Favor

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The killing of thousands of pigs by farmers demanding higher prices for them dramatizes a rising interest among farmers in direct action rather than continued reliance on the complex and elaborate federal programs designed to help them.

The direct approach is also evident in Congress, where farm legislation of an entirely new kind is being considered, based on the collective bargaining procedures guaranteed to labor and industry 30 years ago.

During those three decades, the government, in an effort to hold down farm production and stabilize prices, has erected a dizzying edifice of farm law.

It takes 108,000 people to run the Department of Agriculture and it was only half-jokingly that an amendment was offered a few years ago prohibiting the department from acquiring more employees than there were farmers.

Yet despite costly, often confusing legislation the problems it is supposed to solve continue. Farm prices still fluctuate sharply, production increases yearly and farm income last year was lower than it was 20 years ago.

For the small farmer — the so-called "family farmer" — Congress talks the most about helping — the situation grows steadily worse. Unable to take any of his small acreage out of production to qualify for price supports, he gets almost no benefit from the programs. Squeezed by higher costs for everything he needs, he is being forced off the land.

In the last 15 years, 15 million people have moved from the farms and rural areas into the cities, compounding the urban problems now tormenting the nation.

With the current farm programs due to expire next year both the House and Senate are in the process of reviewing them and new departures have already been suggested.

In the Senate a bill has been introduced that would give farmers the right to bargain collectively with processors on the price of their crops. It is based on the same principle written into law in 1935 that gave organized labor the right to bargain collectively on the terms of its employment.

Originally tossed out as a suggestion by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman more than a year ago, the bill is unlikely to advance very far this year.

More promising is the future of another Senate bill that would extend the system of federal marketing agreements to all farm products. These production-and-price agreements, embodying collective bargaining procedures, now apply only to selected crops.

In the House a bill to extend the collective bargaining principle to farm labor has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee. It would apply only to large farms, which would be required to recognize and bargain with a union chosen by a majority of their employees.

Whatever the fate of these and similar bills they indicate an awareness in Congress that it may be better to let farmers, processors and farm workers work things out for themselves under the same rules that seem to have worked well for industry and labor.

Ingredients of Happy Mealtime

If I could only get the Olympics committee to agree to a new category in the summer games, my offspring would come home clutching gold medals. There is no doubt in my mind but that I am feeding the world's champion eating team.

Like most parents, I don't mind what they eat at regular meals each day. It's the $800 worth of groceries they consume between meals.

Actually, I might as well come to grips with the real problem. I don't really care how much they eat anytime—as long as I don't have to watch them.

The standing offer at our house is that as soon as you stop putting the bowl on your head, you and your high chair are welcomed to the dining room. Reasoning says a child learns good manners by example. Reasoning says a child listening to scintillating adult conversation will soon join in with some of his own.

This is O.K. with the first-born. He gnaws on his zwieback and listens to mother and father discuss his obviously superior intelligence in managing to drop the crust no more than 14 times during their meal. However, when the second or third child appears at the table, all this reasoning stops. One just loses the knack for it.

Simply stated, mealtime conversation with several children boils down to a series of comments about how it's better to break the bread and then butter it instead of lathering a whole slice and folding it over, and reminders that second helpings are available, so it isn't necessary to have things dripping off the plate that way.

I do try to be specific. I say things like, "Stop scooping it with your HAND!"

"Don't stir everything together, honey," I admonish. "Just flip one more pea, young man!" I say sternly. "Who SQUEEZED that watermelon ball?" I scream.

My husband and I long ago abandoned this method. Every once in awhile he just glares around the table and shouts a general, all-inclusive, "STOP that, dammit!"

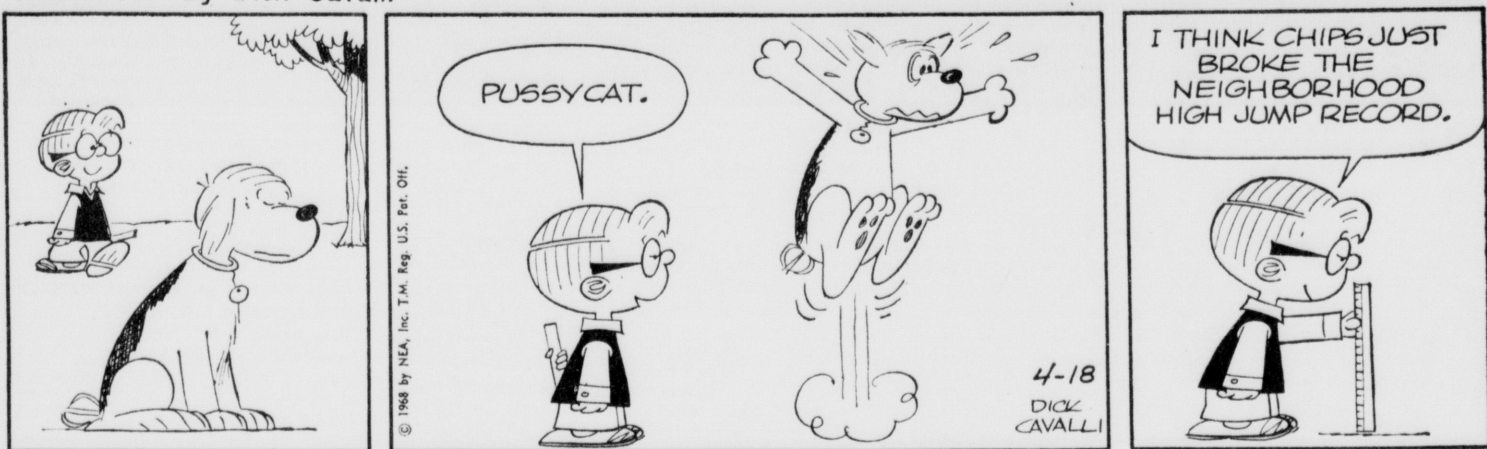

Usually children's table conversation is merely a recitation of amusing incidents from school. "Connie vomited in the lunchroom," they say. "I ate Jerry's stew because he thought it was full of worms— isn't that FUNNY?" "During reading group George picked his wart till it bled. Boy, was there blood! You never saw anything bleed like that wart bled!"

At this point I explain that having good manners means making life pleasant for those about you—helping others to be comfortable. That's what I say. They say, "Are there any more potatoes? Was that all the meat?"

Polly's Pointers Faded Linen Tablecloths Convert to Crib Sheets

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I made use of faded linen tablecloths by using them as crib sheets. Tack the corners for fitted sheets or use as is. Those with flowered or other designs look just as nice as the printed ones you buy and they are sturdier, too. —SHIRLEY

DEAR POLLY—This is for Mrs. W., who loaned out some baby clothes and got them back smelling like cigarettes. She can wash these things in the usual way and add ½-cup vinegar to the last rinse water. The clothes will smell sweet and clean. She might first try a really good airing and see if that would help. —MRS. B. L. B.

DEAR POLLY—I suggest that Mrs. W. put those smoke-smelling baby clothes in the dryer and let it run on cool air for a long time. They may come out slightly rumpled but without odor. I have done this with clothes that smelled of dry-cleaning fluid that would not come out by simply airing them on the line. —HELEN

DEAR POLLY—My photograph albums have gotten damp and the color pictures have stuck together. I hope some reader can tell me a way to separate them without tearing the pictures. Steaming does not help. —SHARON

DEAR POLLY—Our toddler was always putting small toys down the furnace registers, so we cut old window screens up and used small pieces of the screen wire directly under each register. They cannot be seen. This not only prevents toys dropping through but serves as a dust-catcher and makes vacuuming easier than having to clean the entire register box.

I was wild for a round floor-length tablecloth to cover an old drum table in a bedroom. The ready-mades were too expensive for me and I wondered how to make a seamless one until it dawned on me to use several yards of unbleached sheeting, which comes 81 inches wide. I cut a circle long enough to nearly reach the floor, machine-stitched a shirt tail hem and dyed it in my washer so it is a pretty forest green. I added some inexpensive two-inch ivory fringe (based on for easy removal at washing time). It looks quite elegant and, when starched, cannot be told from a ready-made one. —M. J. T.

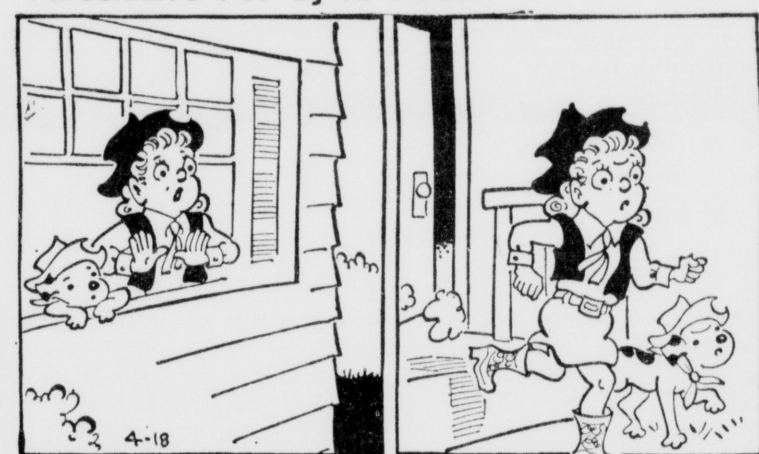

DEAR POLLY—Like Marty Mae, my children have a collection of felt pennants which we wanted to display without marring the wall. I bought 1½ yards of burlap, hemmed both edges with 1¼-inch hems and, after pinning the pennants to this material, I slipped a wooden dowel through each hem. I attached a cord to the top dowel and hung this on the wall like a scroll. —BILLIE

DEAR POLLY—Anyone having a small hole in a wall or where plumbing pipes go through the floor can fill in these holes with steel wool and keep out the mice. —MRS. R. W.

"To make a long story short, Col. Ky took advantage of this situation to fly from Laos to Saigon. Of course the CIA crewed Col. Ky and his flight crew and they were replaced by Chinese Air Force pilots from Formosa. Also, the Vietnam ground crew was replaced by Chinese mechanics."

The missions were flown from Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base, the report said. At least one of the aircraft used, a C123, belonged to the U.S. Air Force, it said.

Hearnes Critical Of Action

ST. LOUIS (AP) —

Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes has criticized some persons he said argued and debated with officers and did everything they could to hamper them during last week's racial disturbance in Kansas City.

Speaking to the Student Government Association of St. Mary's College of O'Fallon, a St. Louis suburb, Hearnes said the officers who put their lives on the line did not have the backing of some people or the clergy.

He said the attitude was responsible for low morale among Kansas City police.

The governor told the students "there will be no lawlessness and violence. We are going to have respect for law and order."

Earlier this week, 13 civil rights and religious leaders in Kansas City sent a telegram to U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark asking for a federal investigation of police work in the disturbance.

The leaders allege that Negroes are without local law enforcement protection, that police used tear gas indiscriminately, and without provocation struck two Episcopal priests.

The telegram said, "the chief of police continues to make conflicting an inconsistent explanations of these events. A feeling on the part of the community that the police act fairly and objectively in dealing with these situations is essential to that public confidence necessary to preserve peace and order."

John Sneed Named Delegate for Tour

John M. The Gold Bond Stamp redemption center will be different in that through arrangements with the stamp company, stamp books may be used to buy merchandise other than that offered by the company.

Hausam said the redemption center would be owned and operated by Midwest, with only Gold Bond merchandise belonging to that firm. Under this arrangement, he said, holders of Gold Bond stamp books will be able to use the books to buy any merchandise offered by Midwest, or one might even pay bills owed the store with the books at face value. For instance, Hausam said, a person might pay part of the cost of an item with stamps and the remainder in cash.
